25 June 2019

Dear Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that I am writing to welcome you to the Summer Institute on Curriculum Development for the Interdisciplinary Study of Antisemitism, to be held at St. John’s College, Oxford, beginning Sunday, 7 July.

I am certain given your qualifications, experience and commitment to understanding and combating antisemitism, and to scholarship itself, that you will add much to the program. The success of the workshop is dependent on the contributions you and our colleagues will bring to the seminar room.

I am optimistic that the Summer Institute will continue to make inroads into creating a “space” within the university for the study of contemporary antisemitism as a new academic discipline. In effect, we are beginning to break a taboo and the silence.

Through our groundbreaking program, we are developing a formal and informal network of scholars committed to this goal. We are committed to ensuring that more professors teach courses in contemporary critical antisemitism studies, and that students will engage this subject matter, and join our efforts. Your engagement and assistance are very welcome. In fact, we hope you will become ambassadors for these efforts.

See you in Oxford!

Yours,

Charles Asher Small
ISGAP-Oxford Summer Institute Convener
Sunday, 7 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
5:30-8:30 P.M. Welcoming Remarks and Lecture: Dr. Charles Asher Small:
“Introduction - Creating Critical Contemporary Antisemitism Studies: Breaking a Taboo”

Rabbi Akiva Zweig:
“A Biblical Perspective on Antisemitism and the Evolution of Humanity”

Brig. Gen. (Res.) Yosef Kuperwasser
“How Israeli and American Policies in the Middle East Address Anti-Semitism and Anti-Zionism”

U.S. Special Envoy on Antisemitism Elan Carr:
“Combating the Scourge of Anti-Semitism Around the World”

8:30 P.M. 24 Days: The True Story of the Ilan Halimi Affair
Directed by Alexandre Arcady - Film and Discussion

Monday, 8 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Introduction by Dr. Charles Asher Small: “The Importance of Creating Critical Contemporary Antisemitism Studies”

Dr. Carlton Long: “Courage and the Curriculum - Building Powerful Interdisciplinary Syllabi for the Contemporary Study of Antisemitism”

11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. Dr. Charles Asher Small: Global Antisemitism - The Crisis of Modernity
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Dr. Barry Kosmin: The Interdisciplinary Challenge of Teaching and Measuring Antisemitism
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Professor Dr. Bassam Tibi: The Islamization of Antisemitism
SCHEDULE A

Tuesday, 9 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M.  Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M.  Professor Benny Morris: “A New Look at the 1948 War”
11:00 A.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M.  Professor Benny Morris: “Turkey’s Destruction of its Christian Minorities, 1894-1924”
1:00 P.M.  Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M.  Professor Dr. Bassam Tibi: “Antisemitic – Islamo – Leftism and the Bashing of Israel in Europe”
4:00 P.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M.  Joseph Braude: “The Practice of Challenging Antisemitism in Arab Countries - A Report from the Field”

Wednesday, 10 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M.  Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M.  Professor Uzi Rabi: “Israel and the Post Arab Spring Middle East”
11:00 A.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M.  Professor Uzi Rabi: “Israel and the Post Arab Spring Middle East”
1:00 P.M.  Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M.  Professor David Patterson: “The Muslim Brotherhood and the Genealogy of Jihadism”
4:00 P.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M.  Professor David Patterson: “From Hitler to Hamas”
8:00 P.M.  Marlon Solomon One Man Show – “Conspiracy Theory: A Lizard’s Tale”

Thursday, 11 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M.  Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M.  Professor Deborah Lipstadt: “Antisemitism Here and Now”
11:00 A.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M.  Professor Deborah Lipstadt: “Antisemitism Here and Now”
1:00 P.M.  Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M.  Haras Rafiq: “Antisemitism - The Fuel of the Triple Threat”
4:00 P.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M.  Professor Amy Elman: “Fatal Attraction - The Sadism of Antisemitism”
7:00 P.M.  Keynote Interview: Ayaan Hirsi Ali with Dr. Charles Asher Small – “The Special Case of Islamist Anti-Semitism”

Friday, 12 July 2019 – London
7:30 A.M.  Light Breakfast – Dining Hall
8:00 A.M.  Coach departs St. John’s College for London. Meet at the Porters’ Lodge
10:00 A.M.  Community Security Trust
12:30-4:00 P.M.  University of London, SOAS – Khalili Lecture Theatre
  “Antisemitism on the Contemporary British Left: Concept and Practice”
  Chair: Professor David Hirsh
  Matt Bolton: “Corbynism, Antisemitism and Truncated Critiques of Capitalism”
  Ella Rose: “Fighting Antisemitism from within, Jews in the Labour Party”
  Dr. David M. Seymour: “From the Ideology of Antisemitism to the Ideology of Antizionism?”
4:30 P.M.  Coach 1 returns to St. John’s College – Pickup Khalili Lecture Theater
9:00 P.M.  Coach 2 returns to St. John’s College – Pickup Theatre Royal Haymarket

SCHEDULE A
SCHEDULE A

Saturday, 13 July 2019
FREE DAY
8:00-9:00 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall

Sunday, 14 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
FREE DAY
9:00-10:00 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
5:00-7:30 P.M. Dr. Matthias J. Becker: “Antisemitism Online – How to Understand and Measure Antisemitism in the Digital Era?”* Optional

Monday, 15 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Dr. Joël Kotek: “Why the Jews? A Brief History of Antisemitism From the Middle Ages to the 21st Century”
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. Professor Shalem Coulibaly: “Beyond History: A short phenomenology of some Jews and Africans fighting Racism and Antisemitism”
Professor William Kolbrener: “Old Wine in New Bottles - Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism”
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Dr. Joël Kotek: “New Faces of Antisemitism in France and Belgium - Two case studies on the BDS Campaign and Brussels’ Schools”
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Professor Katya Gibel Mevorach: “Teaching about Antisemitism in an Era of Amnesia, Erasure, and Omission”
7:00 P.M. David Hoffman with Wiesel-King Scholars: “Understanding and Managing Unconscious Bias” Optional for Scholars-in-Residence

Tuesday, 16 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman: “Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism in Contemporary Social Movements”
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. “The Intersectionality of Racism and Antisemitism in Relation to Jewish and African Diaspora and Homeland Studies” – Panel Discussion
Professor Ansel Brown, Professor William Kolbrener, Dr. Carlton Long, Dr. Kevin Rome, Dr. Charles Asher Small, Professor Olufemi Vaughan
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Dr. Vladimir Khanin: “Contemporary Trends of Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism - Views of these Phenomena by Jews, Authorities, and the Peoples of the Former Soviet Union”
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman: “Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism in Contemporary Social Movements”
7:00 P.M. Antisemitism Research Roundtable (Optional – Garden Quad Auditorium)
SCHEDULE A

Wednesday, 17 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Professor Ansel Brown: “Common Bonds and Experiences of the African and Jewish Diasporas”
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. Jacob Dallal: “How the Jewish State Confronts Anti-Semitism and an Assault on its Legitimacy”
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Professor Yossi Shain: “The Israeli Century and the Israelization of Antisemitism”
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Professor Yossi Shain: “The Israeli Century and the Israelization of Antisemitism”

Thursday, 18 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Dr. Jonathan Spyer: “Hizballah and the Jews – A Case Study of an Antisemitic Shia Islamist movement”
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. Dr. Jonathan Spyer: “Hizballah and the Jews – A Case Study of an Antisemitic Shia Islamist movement”
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Leading Student and Faculty Encounters: “Antisemitism and the University – Student and Faculty Perspectives on the Classroom and Campus”
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Dr. Charles Asher Small and Dr. Carlton Long: “Workshop in Curriculum Development”
7:00 P.M. Mr. Natan Sharansky: “Antisemitism on the Left and Right – How to recognize it and fight it”
8:30 P.M. Farewell Gala Special Event

Friday, 19 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-4:00 P.M. Presentations of Syllabi and Projects
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
4:00 P.M. Concluding Remarks and Conferring of Certificates by Dr. Charles Asher Small
5:00 P.M. Departures
SCHEDULE B
ISGAP-OXFORD SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT IN CRITICAL ANTISEMITISM STUDIES
ST. JOHN’S COLLEGE, OXFORD
7 JULY – 19 JULY 2019

SCHEDULE B

Sunday, 7 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
5:30-8:30 P.M. Welcoming Remarks and Lecture: Dr. Charles Asher Small: “Introduction: Creating Critical Contemporary Antisemitism Studies: Breaking a Taboo”

Rabbi Akiva Zweig:
“A Biblical Perspective on Antisemitism and the Evolution of Humanity”

Brig. Gen. (Res.) Yosef Kuperwasser
“How Israeli and American Policies in the Middle East Address Anti-Semitism and Anti-Zionism”

U.S. Special Envoy on Antisemitism Elan Carr:
“Combating the Scourge of Anti-Semitism Around the World”

8:30 P.M. 24 Days: The True Story of the Ilan Halimi Affair
Directed by Alexandre Arcady - Film and Discussion

Monday, 8 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Introduction by Dr. Charles Asher Small: “The Importance of Creating Critical Contemporary Antisemitism Studies”

Dr. Carlton Long: “Courage and the Curriculum - Building Powerful Interdisciplinary Syllabi for the Contemporary Study of Antisemitism”

11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. Dr. Charles Asher Small: Global Antisemitism - The Crisis of Modernity”
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall

Remaining Sessions – Prestwich
2:30-4:00 P.M. Professor Dr. Bassam Tibi: “The Islamization of Antisemitism”
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Dr. Barry Kosmin: “The Interdisciplinary Challenge of Teaching and Measuring Antisemitism”
SCHEDULE B

Tuesday, 9 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Professor Benny Morris: “A New Look at the 1948 War”
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room

Remaining Sessions – Prestwich Lecture Hall
11:30-1:00 P.M. Professor Dr. Bassam Tibi: “Antisemitic – Islamo – Leftism and the Bashing of Israel in Europe”
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Joseph Braude: “The Practice of Challenging Antisemitism in Arab Countries - A Report from the Field”
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Professor Benny Morris: “Turkey’s Destruction of its Christian Minorities, 1894-1924”

Wednesday, 10 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Professor Uzi Rabi: “Israel and the Post Arab Spring Middle East”
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. Professor David Patterson: “From Hitler to Hamas” (Prestwich Lecture Hall)
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Professor David Patterson: “The Muslim Brotherhood and the Genealogy of Jihadism” (Garden Quad Auditorium)
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Professor Uzi Rabi: “Israel and the Post Arab Spring Middle East” (Prestwich Lecture Hall)
8:00 P.M. Marlon Solomon One Man Show – “Conspiracy Theory: A Lizard’s Tale” (Garden Quad Auditorium)

Thursday, 11 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M. Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M. Professor Deborah Lipstadt: “Antisemitism Here and Now”
11:00 A.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M. Professor Amy Elman: “Fatal Attraction - The Sadism of Antisemitism” (Prestwich Lecture Hall)
1:00 P.M. Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M. Haras Rafiq: “Antisemitism - The Fuel of the Triple Threat” (Garden Quad Auditorium)
4:00 P.M. Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M. Professor Deborah Lipstadt: “Antisemitism Here and Now” (Prestwich Lecture Hall)
7:00 P.M. Keynote Interview: Ayaan Hirsi Ali with Dr. Charles Asher Small – “The Special Case of Islamist Anti-Semitism” (Garden Quad Auditorium)
Friday, 12 July 2019 – London
7:30 A.M.    Light Breakfast – Dining Hall
8:00 A.M.    Coach departs St. John’s College for London. Meet at the Porters’ Lodge
10:00 A.M.   Community Security Trust
12:30-4:00 P.M. University of London, SOAS – Khalili Lecture Theatre
   “Antisemitism on the Contemporary British Left: Concept and Practice”
   Chair: Professor David Hirsh
   Matt Bolton: “Corbynism, Antisemitism and Truncated Critiques of Capitalism”
   Ella Rose: “Fighting Antisemitism From Within, Jews in the Labour Party”
   Dr. David M. Seymour: “From the Ideology of Antisemitism to the Ideology of Antizionism?”
4:30 P.M.    Coach 1 returns to St. John’s College – Pickup Khalili Lecture Theater
9:00 P.M.    Coach 2 returns to St. John’s College – Pickup Theatre Royal Haymarket

Saturday, 13 July 2019
FREE DAY
8:00-9:00 A.M.    Breakfast – Dining Hall

Sunday, 14 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
FREE DAY
9:00-10:00 A.M.    Breakfast – Dining Hall
5:00-7:30 P.M.    Dr. Matthias J. Becker: “Antisemitism Online – How to Understand and Measure Antisemitism in the Digital Era?”
   Optional

Monday, 15 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M.    Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M.    Dr. Joël Kotek: “Why the Jews? A Brief History of Antisemitism From the Middle Ages to the 21st Century”
11:00 A.M.    Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M.    Professor Shalem Coulibaly: “Beyond History: A short phenomenology of some Jews and Africans fighting Racism and Antisemitism”
   Professor William Kolbrener: “Old Wine in New Bottles - Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism”
1:00 P.M.    Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M.    Professor Katya Gibel Mevorach: "Teaching about Antisemitism in an Era of Amnesia, Erasure, and Omission”
4:00 P.M.    Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M.    Dr. Joël Kotek: “New Faces of Antisemitism in France and Belgium: Two case studies on the BDS Campaign and Brussels’ Schools” (Prestwich Lecture Hall)
7:00 P.M.    David Hoffman with Wiesel-King Scholars:
   “Understanding and Managing Unconscious Bias” (Garden Quad Auditorium)
   Optional for Scholars-in-Residence
Tuesday, 16 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium

8:30 A.M.  Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M.  Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman: “Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism in Contemporary Social Movements”
11:00 A.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M.  “The Intersectionality of Racism and Antisemitism in Relation to Jewish and African Diaspora and Homeland Studies” – Panel Discussion
                 Professor Ansel Brown, Professor William Kolbrener, Dr. Carlton Long, Dr. Kevin Rome, Dr. Charles Asher Small, Professor Olufemi Vaughan
1:00 P.M.  Lunch Break – Dining Hall

Remaining Sessions – Prestwich Lecture Hall

2:30-4:00 P.M.  Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman: “Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism in Contemporary Social Movements”
4:00 P.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M.  Dr. Vladimir Khanin: “Contemporary Trends of Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism – Views of these Phenomena by Jews, Authorities, and the Peoples of the Former Soviet Union”
7:00 P.M.  Antisemitism Research Roundtable (Optional – Garden Quad Auditorium)

Wednesday, 17 July 2019 – Prestwich Lecture Hall

8:30 A.M.  Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M.  Jacob Dallal: “How the Jewish State Confronts Anti-Semitism and an Assault on its Legitimacy”
11:00 A.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M.  Professor Ansel Brown: “Common Bonds and Experiences of the African and Jewish Diasporas”
1:00 P.M.  Lunch Break – Dining Hall
2:30-4:00 P.M.  Dr. Jonathan Spyer: “Hizballah and the Jews – A Case Study of an Antisemitic Shia Islamist movement”
4:00 P.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:00 P.M.  Dr. Jonathan Spyer: “Hizballah and the Jews – A Case Study of an Antisemitic Shia Islamist movement”

Thursday, 18 July 2019 – Prestwich Lecture Hall

8:30 A.M.  Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-11:00 A.M.  Professor Yossi Shain: “The Israeli Century and the Israelization of Antisemitism”
11:00 A.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
11:30-1:00 P.M.  Professor Yossi Shain: “The Israeli Century and the Israelization of Antisemitism”
1:00 P.M.  Lunch Break – Dining Hall

Remaining Sessions – Garden Quad Auditorium

2:30-4:00 P.M.  Leading Student and Faculty Encounters: “Antisemitism and the University – Student and Faculty Perspectives on the Classroom and Campus”
4:00 P.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
4:30-6:30 P.M.  Dr. Charles Asher Small and Dr. Carlton Long: “Workshop in Curriculum Development”
7:00 P.M.  Mr. Natan Sharansky: “Antisemitism on the Left and Right – How to recognize it and fight it”
8:30 P.M.  Farewell Gala Special Event
SCHEDULE B

Friday, 19 July 2019 – Garden Quad Auditorium
8:30 A.M.  Breakfast – Dining Hall
9:30-4:00 P.M.  Presentations of Syllabi and Projects
11:00 A.M.  Break – Tea – Garden Quad Reception Room
1:00 P.M.  Lunch Break – Dining Hall
4:00 P.M.  Concluding Remarks and Conferring of Certificates by Dr. Charles Asher Small
5:00 P.M.  Departures
ISGAP-OXFORD SUMMER INSTITUTE
FOR CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT
IN CRITICAL ANTI-SEMITISM STUDIES

7 July to 19 July 2019

SYLLABUS
READINGS PREPARED BY ROBERT WISTRICH Z”L
FOR THE ISGAP SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT IN CRITICAL ANTISEMITISM STUDIES

SUBJECT ONE: Global Antisemitism

SUBJECT TWO: From Nazi to Islamic and Arab Antisemitism

Jeffrey Herf, Nazi Propaganda for the Arab World (Ann Arbor, 2009)

SUBJECT THREE: The Left, Israel and Anti-Zionism

Robert S. Wistrich, From Ambivalence to Betrayal: The Left, the Jews, and Israel (University of Nebraska Press, 2012)

Arkada Vaksberg, Stalin Against the Jews (New York, 1994)

SUBJECT FOUR: Post-2000: The “New” Antisemitism in Europe

Sunday, 7 July

5:30 P.M.-8:30 P.M.

Welcoming Remarks:
Dr. Charles Asher Small, Program Convener
Founder and Executive Director, ISGAP
Goldman Fellow, School of Government and Public Policy;
Senior Research Fellow, Moshe Dayan Centre for Middle East
and African Studies, Tel Aviv University;
Visiting Scholar Senior Member,
St. Antony’s College, Oxford University

“Introduction - Creating Critical Contemporary Antisemitism Studies: Breaking a Taboo”

Lectures:
Rabbi Akiva Zweig
Dean (Rosh Yeshiva), Talmudic College of Florida

“A Biblical Perspective on Antisemitism and the Evolution of Humanity”

Brig. Gen. (Res.) Yosef Kuperwasser
Senior Manager for Regional Affairs
Jerusalem Center for Public Affairs

“How Israeli and American Policies in the Middle East
Address Anti-Semitism and Anti-Zionism”

Keynote Address:
Elan Carr
U.S. Special Envoy to Monitor and Combat Anti-Semitism

“How combat the Scourge of Anti-Semitism Around the World”

8:30 P.M.

Film and Discussion:
24 Days: The True Story of the Ilan Halimi Affair
French drama film directed by Alexandre Arcady and released in 2014, which
Monday, 8 July

9:30 A.M.-11:00 A.M.  Introduction by Dr. Charles Asher Small
Executive Director, ISGAP

“The Importance of Creating Critical Contemporary Antisemitism Studies”

Dr. Carlton Long
CEO, Lawrence-Long & Co. Educational Consulting

“Courage and the Curriculum – Building Powerful Interdisciplinary Syllabi for the Contemporary Study of Antisemitism”

11:30 A.M.-1:00 P.M.  Dr. Charles Asher Small
Executive Director, ISGAP

“Global Antisemitism – The Crisis of Modernity”

Readings (Long):
See Professor Pack

Readings (Small)

Charles Asher Small, Global Antisemitism: Crisis of Modernity (New York, 2014)

Recommended Readings:

Tony McGrew, Stuart Hall, and David Held, eds., Modernity and its Futures

Ayse Oncu and Petra Weyland, Space, Culture and Power: New Identities in Globalising Cities

Saskia Sassen, Territory, Authority, Rights: From Medieval to Global Assemblages
(Princeton University Press, 1996)
Monday, 8 July

Dr. Barry Kosmin
Research Professor, Trinity College, Connecticut

“The Interdisciplinary Challenge of Teaching and Measuring Antisemitism”

Readings

Karl Marx, Der Judenfrage - On the Jewish Question, 1843

Richard Wagner, Das Judentum in der Musik, 1869

Friedrich Nietzsche, The Genealogy of Morals, 1899

Houston Stewart Chamberlain, England und Deutschland, Munich, Bruckmann, 1915

Julien Benda, La Trahison des Clercs, Paris 1927

George Orwell, “Antisemitism in Britain,” Contemporary Jewish Record. London, April 1945

Paul Iganski & Barry Kosmin, A New Antisemitism: Debating Judeophobia in 21st Century

Lars Dencik & Karl Marosi, Different Antisemitisms: On Three Distinct Forms of Antisemitism in Contemporary Europe, Kantor Center Position Papers, University of Tel-Aviv, 2016

Monday, 8 July

Professor Dr. Bassam Tibi
Professor Emeritus for International Relations
University of Goettingen

“The Islamization of Antisemitism”
Readings

***************

Tuesday, 9 July

9:00 A.M.-10:30 A.M.  Professor Benny Morris
Department of History and Middle Eastern Studies
Ben-Gurion University

“A New Look at the 1948 War”

Readings

Tuesday, 9 July

Professor Benny Morris
Department of History and Middle Eastern Studies
Ben-Gurion University

“Turkey’s Destruction of its Christian Minorities, 1894-1924”

Readings

Benny Morris & Dror Ze'evi, "The Thirty-Year Genocide, Turkey's Destruction of its Christian Communities, 1894-1924"

Tuesday, 9 July

Professor Dr. Bassam Tibi
Professor Emeritus for International Relations
University of Goettingen

“Antisemitic – Islamo – Leftism and the Bashing of Israel in Europe”

Tuesday, 9 July

Joseph Braude
Advisor, Al-Mesbar Studies and Research Center
Strategic Advisor, America Abroad Media
Senior Fellow, Foreign Policy Research Institute

“The Practice of Challenging Antisemitism in Arab Countries – A Report from the Field”

Readings

Wednesday, 10 July

9:30 A.M.-11:00 A.M.

Professor Uzi Rabi
Director, Dayan Center, Tel Aviv University

“Israel and the Post Arab Spring Middle East”

Readings

Uzi Rabi, Brandon Friedman, “Weaponizing Sectarianism in Iraq and Syria,” Foreign Policy Research Institute, 2017

2:30 P.M.-4:00 P.M.

Professor David Patterson
Hillel Feinberg Chair in Holocaust Studies
Ackerman Center for Holocaust Studies
University of Texas at Dallas

“The Muslim Brotherhood and the Genealogy of Jihadism”
Readings

Wednesday, 10 July
Professor Uzi Rabi
Director, Dayan Center, Tel Aviv University

Part II - “Israel and the Post Arab Spring Middle East”

Wednesday, 10 July
Professor David Patterson
Hillel Feinberg Chair in Holocaust Studies
Ackerman Center for Holocaust Studies
University of Texas at Dallas

“From Hitler to Hamas”

8:00 P.M.
Marlon Solomon One Man Show - ‘Conspiracy Theory: A Lizard’s Tale’

Thursday, 11 July

9:30 A.M.-11:00 A.M.
Professor Deborah E. Lipstadt
Dorot Professor of Holocaust Studies
Emory University

“Antisemitism Here and Now”

Readings

Thursday, 11 July
Haras Rafiq
CEO, Quilliam (Foundation), London, UK

“Antisemitism – The Fuel of the Triple Threat”

Thursday, 11 July
Professor Amy Elman
William Weber Chair of Social Science
Kalamazoo College

“Fatal Attraction – The Sadism of Antisemitism”
Readings

http://remember.org/educate/elman

Phyllis Chesler (2003) The Brownshirts of our Time; Front Page Magazine
https://phyllis-chesler.com/articles/the-brownshirts-of-our-time

Janet Freedman (2017) Feminism and Zionism; Academic Engagement Network, No. 3, pp. 1-29

Thursday, 11 July

Professor Deborah E. Lipstadt
Dorot Professor of Holocaust Studies
Emory University

Part II - “Antisemitism Here and Now”

7:00 P.M.

Ayaan Hirsi Ali
Founder, AHA Foundation
Author and Women’s Rights Activist

Keynote Interview with Dr. Charles Asher Small:
“The Special Case of Islamist Anti-Semitism”

******************
Friday, 12 August

Trip to London

10:00 A.M.
Morning Session at Community Security Trust (CST)
Speakers: Michael Whine

12:30 P.M.
Afternoon Session at University of London
School of Oriental and African Studies
Khalili Lecture Theater

“Antisemitism on the Contemporary British Left: Concept and Practice”

Chair: Professor David Hirsh
Lecturer in Sociology, Goldsmiths, University of London

Speakers: Matt Bolton: “Corbynism, Antisemitism and Truncated Critiques of Capitalism”
Ella Rose: “Fighting Antisemitism from Within, Jews in the Labour Party”
Dr. David M. Seymour: “From the Ideology of Antisemitism to the Ideology of Antizionism?”

Readings

Matt Bolton & Frederick Harry Pitts, “Why Jeremy Corbyn’s ‘rigged system’ is a template for antisemitism,” The Jewish Chronicle, 17 January 2019
https://www.thejc.com/comment/analysis/jeremy-corbyn-s-rigged-system-is-a-template-for-antisemitism-1.478759

Matt Bolton & Frederick Harry Pitts, “To combat left antisemitism, Corbynism must change the way it sees the world,” New Statesman, 27 March 2018

Ella Rose, “Actually dealing with Labour antisemitism would endanger Jeremy Corbyn’s lifelong dream,” The Jewish Journal, 21 November 2018

***************

Monday, 15 July

9:30 A.M.-11:00 A.M. Dr. Joël Kotek
Free University of Brussels (ULB) and
The Institut d’Études Politiques de Paris

“Why the Jews? A Brief History of Antisemitism From the Middle Ages to the 21st Century”

Readings

Monday, 15 July Professor Katya Gibel Mevorach
Anthropology and American Studies, Grinnell College

“Teaching about Antisemitism in the Era of Amenisa, Erasure, and Omissions”
Monday, 15 July

Dr. Shalem Coulibaly
Ouagadougou University

“Beyond History: A short phenomenology of some Jews and Africans fighting Racism and Antisemitism”

Professor William Kolbrener
English Literature
Bar Ilan University

“Old Wine in New Bottles: Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism”

Monday, 15 July

Dr. Joël Kotek
Free University of Brussels (ULB) and
The Institut d’Études Politiques de Paris

“New Faces of Antisemitism in France and Belgium – Two Case Studies on the BDS Campaign and Brussels’ Schools”

Tuesday, 16 July

9:30 A.M.-11:00 A.M.

Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman
Emerita Professor of Contemporary Jewish Life
Near Eastern and Judaic Studies Department
Brandeis University

“Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism in Contemporary Social Movements”

Readings

Leonard Saxe et al, Hotspots of Antisemitism and Anti-Israel Sentiment on U.S. Campuses, Brandeis University, 2016. (full sociological study)
https://www.brandeis.edu/ssri/noteworthy/antisemitism.html#.XOaFT6smzq8

Janet Freedman, “For the Women's Studies Association, the BDS Vote Was Over Before It Began,” Forward (op-ed)
https://forward.com/sisterhood/325637/for-the-womens-studies-association-the-bds-vote-was-over-before-it-began/?utm_source=Email%20Article&utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=Email%20Article

Yosef Kuperwasser, “The ‘Peaceful’ Movement to Destroy Israel,” Tablet (op-ed) May 1, 2019

11:30 A.M.-1:00 P.M.  “The Intersectionality of Racism and Antisemitism in Relation to Jewish and African Diaspora and Homeland Studies” - Panel Discussion

Speakers: Professor Ansel Brown, Professor William Kolbrener, Dr. Carlton Long, Dr. Kevin Rome, Dr. Charles Asher Small, Professor Olufemi Vaughan

Readings

Tuesday, 16 July  Dr. Vladimir Khanin
Department of Political Science
Ariel University and Bar-Ilan University

“Contemporary Trends of Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism – Views of these Phenomena by Jews, Authorities, and the Peoples of the Former Soviet Union”

Readings

Antisemitism and Philo-Semitism in Russia and Ukraine: from Evolution to Revolution. Tel-Aviv: Center for Jewish Diaspora Research, Tel-Aviv University and Institute for Euro-Asian Jewish Studies, Herzliya, 2019
https://www.dropbox.com/s/16azx1fp1dqq5ad/mongraphy_pages_en.pdf?dl=0

Tuesday, 16 July  Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman
Emerita Professor of Contemporary Jewish Life
Near Eastern and Judaic Studies Department
Brandeis University

Part II - “Antisemitism and Anti-Zionism in Contemporary Social Movements”

7:00 P.M.  Antisemitism Research Roundtable (Optional)

******************
Wednesday, 17 July

Professor Ansel Brown
Assistant Clinical Professor of Political Science
Director, University Honors Program
North Carolina Central University

“Common Bonds and Experiences of the African and Jewish Diasporas”

Readings

Calev Myers, Crucial Alliance: African Americans, Jews, and the Middle East Conundrum

Wednesday, 17 July

Jacob Dallal
Director of Academic Affairs
Ministry of Strategic Affairs and Public Diplomacy
Israel

“How the Jewish State Confronts Anti-Semitism and an Assault on its Legitimacy”

Wednesday, 17 July

Professor Yossi Shain
Comparative Government and Diaspora Politics,
Georgetown University Political Science and Director, Tel Aviv University School of Political Science, Government and International Affairs

“The Israeli Century and the Israelization of Anti-Semitism”

**********************

Thursday, 18 July

Dr. Jonathan Spyer
Director, Middle East Center for Reporting and Analysis
Research Fellow, Jerusalem Institute for Strategy and Security
Fellow, Middle East Forum

“Hizballah and the Jews – A case study of an Antisemitic Shia Islamist movement”

Readings

Chapter 8, titled “Anti-Judaism”

Thursday, 18 July

2:30 P.M.-4:00 P.M. Leading Student and Faculty Encounters: “Antisemitism and the University - Student and Faculty Perspectives on the Classroom and Campus”

4:30 P.M.-6:00 P.M. Dr. Charles Asher Small
Executive Director, ISGAP
Goldman Fellow, Senior Research Fellow, Tel Aviv University
Visiting Scholar – Senior Member, St. Antony’s College, Oxford University

Dr. Carlton Long
CEO, Lawrence-Long & Co. Educational Consulting

“Workshop in Curriculum Development”

7:00 P.M. Natan Sharansky
Human Rights Activist
Former Chairman of the Jewish Agency
Former Cabinet Minister of the Government of Israel

“Anti-Semitism on the Left and Right – How to Recognize It and Fight It”

Readings

******************

Friday, 19 July

9:30 A.M.-4:00 P.M. Presentation of Syllabi and Projects

4:00 P.M. Concluding Remarks by Dr. Charles Asher Small Conferring of Certificates
Ambassadors for the Interdisciplinary Study of Antisemitism: Ways Forward
PROFESSOR BIOGRAPHIES

Ayaan Hirsi Ali

Ayaan Hirsi Ali is a research fellow at the Hoover Institution, Stanford University, and founder of the AHA Foundation. She served as a member of the Dutch Parliament from 2003 to 2006. While in Parliament, she focused on furthering the integration of non-Western immigrants into Dutch society, and on defending the rights of Muslim women.

Prior to joining the Hoover Institution, Hirsi Ali was a fellow at the Belfer Center’s Future of Diplomacy Project at Harvard University, and a resident fellow at the American Enterprise Institute. She received her master’s degree in Political Science from Leiden University in the Netherlands.

Joseph Braude

Josephbraude@gmail.com

Joseph Braude is Advisor to the Al-Mesbar Studies and Research Center in Dubai, Strategic Advisor to America Abroad Media in Washington, Senior Fellow at the Foreign Policy Research Institute, and a contributing editor at Tablet magazine.

Joseph Braude is a regular contributor to Public Radio International’s America Abroad, a periodic commentator on NPR and PRI news programs, and the host of Eye on Arabia, a podcast in English. Since July 2010, his weekly commentary in Arabic, “Risalat New York” (“Letter from New York”), has aired nationally in Morocco on MED Radio. It is now available as a podcast. He makes guest appearances on leading pan-Arab TV networks, including Al-Arabiya and Rusya al-Yawm.

At the Al-Mesbar Studies and Research Center in Dubai, Braude contributes research to its Arabic-language publications. At America Abroad Media in Washington, he assists in content development and special projects in the Middle East and North Africa.

He has served as a consulting advisor to non-profit organizations, the U.S. government, and the private sector in the realms of Arab civil society engagement, strategic communications, and counterterrorism. Braude is currently at work on a book about Arabic media.
Dr. Matthias J. Becker
Mjb15@posteo.de
Dr. Matthias J. Becker is a research fellow at the Weiss-Livnat Center for Holocaust Research and Education/Department of Communication at the University of Haifa. Furthermore, he is affiliated to the Center for Research on Antisemitism at the Technical University in Berlin and to Centric, Sheffield Hallam University.
He read Linguistics, Philosophy and Literature at the Free University of Berlin, and has worked with several research projects on the use of language in political and media campaigns at the Technical University.
His research lies within the disciplines of (pragma)linguistics, antisemitism research, and Internet studies and focuses on the construction of implicit hate speech.
His doctoral dissertation, published by Nomos in 2018, analyses the linguistic construction of antisemitic stereotypes and demonising historical analogies in British and German discourses on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. In his postdoc project, he examines antisemitism in the British mainstream media in the context of Brexit, using qualitative, quantitative as well as AI tools for examining various websites and social media platforms.

Matt Bolton
Mattbolton1@gmail.com
Matt Bolton is a postgraduate researcher in Political Philosophy at the University of Roehampton, London. He is the coauthor of Corbynism: A Critical Approach (Emerald, 2018), the first book length study of the theoretical basis of the Corbyn movement and its relation to broader political developments on both left and right.

Professor Ansel Brown
aebrown@post.harvard.edu
Professor Ansel Brown is Assistant Clinical Professor of Political Science at North Carolina Central University (NCCU), where he serves as campus advisor for the Pre-Law Program. He was named the Director of the University Honors Program (UHP) in the fall of 2010. Professor Brown specializes in pre-law studies, international law and policy. He teaches “Intro to Legal Process and Judicial Process,” “Basics of Legal Writing,” “Constitutional Law,” “Practicum in Legal Problem Solving,” and “Problems of Contemporary Governments, and International Organizations.”

Prior to entering academia, he served as policy counsel at the N.C. Institute of Minority Economic Development and the Center for Responsible Lending, where he advocated for consumer protection laws aimed at reducing predatory subprime lending and rising student debt. He earned his Bachelor’s degree from NCCU and his Juris Doctor from Harvard Law School. As a law student, he co-founded the Harvard Alliance for Israel and wrote his third year paper with Professor Alan Dershowitz, critiquing the Durban Conference on Racism. Brown is a member of the N.C. State Bar.
Special Envoy Elan S. Carr
Elan S. Carr serves as the Special Envoy to Monitor and Combat Anti-Semitism. As Special Envoy, he advises the Secretary of State and is responsible for directing U.S. policies and projects aimed at countering antisemitism throughout the world.

Prior to his appointment, Special Envoy Carr served as a Deputy District Attorney for Los Angeles County, where he prosecuted violent crimes for more than a decade, including murders, rapes, hate crimes, and crimes involving some of the most notorious criminal street gangs in Southern California.

Special Envoy Carr is an officer in the United States Army Reserve, and he has received multiple awards and commendations for his nearly two decades of military service. In 2003-04, he deployed to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, where he led an anti-terrorism team in life-saving missions throughout the country and prosecuted terrorists who attacked U.S. troops. He also assisted efforts to establish an independent Iraqi judiciary and trained Iraqi judges and lawyers on constitutional law and criminal defense.

As the son of Iraqi Jewish refugees who fled persecution in Iraq, Special Envoy Carr speaks Hebrew and the Iraqi dialect of Arabic. While in Iraq, he met with remnants of the Jewish community there and led Jewish services in the former presidential palace of Saddam Hussein in Baghdad.

Special Envoy Carr was the international president of the Jewish fraternity Alpha Epsilon Pi, he served on the National Council of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC), he was a voting member of the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations, and he was a board member of Operation Gratitude. In the course of his work in the Jewish community, he has been a recognized leader in the fight against antisemitism on U.S. college campuses and around the world.

Dr. Shalem Coulibaly
Shalem.coulibaly972@gmail.com
Dr. Shalem Coulibaly is a professor of philosophy at the University of Ouagadougou in Burkina Faso, and was General Secretary of the Université OUAGA 3S. Dr. Coulibaly serves on the International Academic Board of Advisors for ISGAP, the Institute for the Study of Global Antisemitism and Policy.

Dr. Shalem Coulibaly was born in Côte d’Ivoire (Ivory Coast). He has a doctorate in philosophy, from Sorbonne University. He taught philosophy in France and Israel.

Coulibaly is fine observer of European antisemitism. During the nineties in France, he co-founded JUAF (Jews and Africans), the first organization for dialogue between Africans and Jews.
Jacob Dallal
jacobd@pmo.gov.il

Jacob Dallal is director of academic affairs at the Ministry of Strategic Affairs. Born in Chicago, Jacob received his undergraduate degree in political philosophy from the University of Chicago and a Master's Degree in Public Administration from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. Jacob was director of public relations in North America for the Jewish Agency for Israel; at Taglit-Birthright Israel in New York; and at the Mandel Foundation in Jerusalem. Jacob is a major (reserve) in the IDF, having served for five years as an IDF spokesperson to the international press; he was acting head of the international press unit during the Lebanon War in 2006.

Professor R. Amy Elman
Amy.Elman@kzoo.edu

R. Amy Elman is Professor of Political Science and the William Weber Chair of Social Science at Kalamazoo College in Michigan. She graduated from Brandeis University with a BA and went on to receive an MA and PhD in Comparative Politics at New York University. She has received numerous awards for her scholarship, including two Fulbright grants, a fellowship from the National Endowment for the Humanities and a grant from the Sassoon International Center for the Study of Antisemitism at the Hebrew University. She has worked on behalf of women's rights and against antisemitism in the US and within Europe for over three decades. She has lectured and published widely on the response of states and the European Union to issues of citizenship, migration, violence against women, sex discrimination, and antisemitism. She has published four books. Her most recent book, The European Union, Antisemitism and the Politics of Denial (University of Nebraska Press, 2014), explores the conditions that precipitated the EU’s efforts to stem antisemitism, and considers the consequences.
Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman
fishman@brandeis.edu
Professor Sylvia Barack Fishman is Emerita Professor of Contemporary Jewish Life in the Near Eastern and Judaic Studies Department at Brandeis University. She is the author of eight books and numerous articles. Her work explores Jewish identity, Israel-Diaspora relations, antisemitism and anti-Zionism, the interplay of American and Jewish values, transformations in the American Jewish family, the impact of Jewish education, gender and sexuality in American Jewish life and portrayals of Jews and Jewishness in fiction and film. Prof. Fishman was the founding co-director of the Hadassah Brandeis Institute (HBI) and she currently edits the HBI Series on Gender and Jewish Woman. Among other honors, Prof. Fishman received The Marshall Sklare Award from the Association for the Social Scientific Study of Jewry (2014).

Professor David Hirsh
hirshd@gmail.com
David Hirsh has been in the Sociology Department at Goldsmiths College since 2003. He studied Sociology as an undergraduate at City University, London. He did an MA in Philosophy and Social Theory at Warwick University and wrote his PhD there on crimes against humanity and international law.

He was the holder of the Sociological Review Fellowship in 2001-2002, which enabled him to write Law against Genocide: cosmopolitan trials, published in 2003. This book was awarded the British Sociological Association Philip Abrams Prize for the best first book in sociology in 2004. By focusing on two trials from the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia: the trial of Andrei Sawoniuk for crimes committed during the Holocaust, and the David Irving libel case, the book comes to tentative conclusions about the possibility of the emergence of cosmopolitan law.

Professor Hirsh received a Rothschild/Hanadiv Foundation research grant of £25000 for a project “to investigate the character and dynamics of anti-Zionism as a contemporary political movement and its relationship to antisemitism” (January 2007 to August 2007). The central research output made possible by this funding was a major Working Paper published by the Yale Initiative for the Interdisciplinary Study of Antisemitism, titled “Anti-Zionism and Antisemitism: Cosmopolitan Reflections.” In 2006-2007, Professor Hirsh was a Research Fellow at Yale University. His most recent book was Contemporary Left Antisemitism, published in 2017.
Dr. Joël Kotek
Joel.kotek1@telenet.be
Joël Kotek is a Professor at the Free University of Brussels (ULB) and the Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris. Dr. Kotek is member of several scientific committees including: Revue d'Histoire de la Shoah de Paris, the Jewish Museum of Warsaw, Mechelen Holocaust Museum, Foundation Aladdin (Paris), Evens Foundation (Antwerpen) and Yahad in Unum (Paris). He was the head of the formation Department at the Mémorial de la Shoah/Centre de Documentation juive contemporaine in Paris (2003-2006) and is, since 2003, the Belgian correspondent of the Moshe Cantor Center on Antisemitism and Racism. He is an ISGAP research fellow.

Dr. Vladimir (Ze'ev) Khanin
zeevkh@gmail.com
Dr. Vladimir (Ze'ev) Khanin is Chief Scientist (Senior Advisor to Minister on Research and Strategic Planning) of the Israeli Ministry of Immigrant Absorption. He is also Associate Professor, Department of Political and Middle Eastern Studies, at the Ariel University of Samaria and a lecturer in Political Studies at Bar-Ilan University, Israel.

Dr. Khanin one of the leading Israeli experts on the Russian Jewish community in Israel and the Diaspora, as well as on FSU politics. He received his PhD in Political Science from the Moscow Institute for African Studies, the USSR Academy of Sciences, in 1989, and in 1991 completed post-doctoral studies in the Institute for Russian and Soviet Studies at the University of Oxford He served as a visiting lecturer at a number of universities in Great Britain and the FSU (including in London, Moscow, Kiev, Riga, Minsk, and Baku). Dr. Khanin is also a political commentator at Israel’s Channel Nine TV, The Voice of Israel Radio, and the BBC Russian Service. His interviews and articles often appear in various Israeli, US, European, and Russian printed and electronic media outlets.

His academic publications include eight books, nine edited collections, several monographs, and numerous articles on Israeli, East European, Jewish and African politics and society. His books include: Documents on Ukrainian Jewish Identity and Emigration (London, 2004); “Russian” Israelis at “Home” and “Abroad”: Migration, Identity and Culture (Ramat Gan, 2011); Post-Soviet Jewish Youth (Moscow and Ramat Gan, 2013); Political Party Systems and Electoral Trends in Israel of the Early 21st Century (Moscow, 2014); Joining the Jewish Collective: Formalizing the Jewish Status of Repatriates from the Former USSR of non-Jewish and Mixed Origin in Israel (Jerusalem, 2014), and “The Third Israel”: Russian-speaking Community and Politics in the Contemporary Jewish State (Moscow, 2015).
Dr. Barry Kosmin
Barry.kosmin@trincoll.edu
Barry A. Kosmin is Research Professor of Public Policy and Law at Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, and Founding Director of its Institute for the Study of Secularism in Society and Culture (ISSSC). He is a Senior Associate of the Oxford Centre for Hebrew and Jewish Studies, the University of Oxford. During his career he has held executive positions with the Institute for Jewish Policy Research in London, the Board of Deputies of British Jews and the Council of Jewish Federations in New York.

 Brig. Gen. (Res.) Yosef Kuperwasser
ykup@walla.co.il
Brig. Gen. (Res.) Yosef Kuperwasser is the senior manager for regional affairs at the Jerusalem Center for Public Affairs. He is former Director General of the Ministry of International Affairs and Strategy. In his long career at the IDF, Brig. Gen. (res.) Kuperwasser served as Assistant Defense Attaché for Intelligence at the Israeli Embassy in Washington DC (1992-1994), Intelligence Officer of the IDF Central Command (1998-2001), and Head of the Analysis and Production Division of the IDF Directorate of Military Intelligence (2001-2006). He had a significant role in determining Israel’s coping methods with terror as well as regional developments, and sharing such analysis with the US and other foreign entities.
Kuperwasser founded several enterprises for fighting delegitimization and Anti-Semitism and serve on their board. He authored a wide variety of publications on the Middle East, terrorism, the effort to delegitimize Israel and intelligence and he is an opinion contributor to various Israeli and international papers. His paper "Incentivizing terrorism – Palestinian Authority Allocations to Terrorists and Their Families" played a major role in raising attention to this practice. He authored for ISGAP a paper titled "Anti-Semitism and Anti Zionism: same idea, new cloak" and recently published on Tablet "The "peaceful" movement to destroy Israel".
Professor William Kolbrener
kolbrener@gmail.com
William Kolbrener, is a Professor of English Literature at Bar Ilan University, and earned his MA from Oxford and his PhD from Columbia University. He is the author of books on the eighteenth-century British proto-feminist Mary Astell, as well as John Milton, the author of Paradise Lost. He has also written The Last Rabbi on Joseph Soloveitchik, and a collection of personal essays, Open Minded Torah. Kolbrener has also written on Israel, Judaism, and antisemitism in a variety of venues including Tablet, The Washington Post, Commentary, Times Higher Education, Ha'aretz, The Forward, and The Jerusalem Post.

Professor Deborah E. Lipstadt
dlipsta@emory.edu
Dr. Deborah E. Lipstadt, Dorot Professor of Holocaust Studies at Emory University in Atlanta, has published and taught about the Holocaust for close to 40 years. She is probably most widely known because of the libel lawsuit brought against her (1996) by David Irving for having called him a Holocaust denier. Irving then was then arguably the world’s leading denier.

After a ten-week trial in London (2000), in an overwhelming victory for Lipstadt, the judge found Irving to be a “neo-Nazi polemicist” who “perverts” history and engages in “racist” and “anti-Semitic” discourse. The Daily Telegraph described the trial as having “done for the new century what the Nuremberg tribunals or the Eichmann trial did for earlier generations.” The Times of London wrote that “history has had its day in court and scored a crushing victory.” According to The New York Times, the trial “put an end to the pretense that Mr. Irving is anything but a self-promoting apologist for Hitler.” Her TED Talk, “Behind the Lies of Holocaust Denial,” has received well over 1.3 million hits.

Lipstadt’s Antisemitism: Here and Now was published in English in January 2019, in German in November 2018 and in Hebrew in February 2019. She has written Holocaust: An American Understanding (Rutgers, 2016), which explores how America has understood and interpreted the Holocaust since 1945.

At Emory she directs the website known as HDOT (Holocaust Denial on Trial/www.hdot.org), which contains a complete archive of the proceedings of Irving v. Penguin UK and Deborah Lipstadt. It also provides answers to frequent claims made by deniers. At Emory, Lipstadt has won the Emery Williams Teaching Award, selected by alumni as the teacher who had most influenced them. Lipstadt was an historical consultant to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, and helped to design the section of the museum dedicated to the American Response to the Holocaust. She has held Presidential appointment to the United States Holocaust Memorial Council (from Presidents Clinton and Obama) and was asked by President George W. Bush to represent the White House at the 60th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz. She was part of a committee that advised Secretary of State Madeline Albright on matters of religious freedom abroad. She has a BA from the City College of New York and an MA and PhD. from Brandeis University.
Dr. Carlton Long
carltonlong@llandco.org
Dr. Carlton Long is the CEO of Lawrence-Long and Co., Educational Consulting, LLC. A former Rhodes Scholar, Dr. Long has been, internationally, a leading professional staff developer for over two decades. With a strong focus on excellence, access and equity, Carlton Long has guided American colleges and universities in their development of honors college curricula. Since the founding of the ISGAP-Oxford Summer Institute, Dr. Long has guided and supported ISGAP Scholars-in-Residence in their development of university syllabi for undergraduate and graduate courses dealing with contemporary global antisemitism.

In his D.Min. doctoral research at the Morehouse School of Religion, Interdenominational Theological Center, in Atlanta, Dr. Long dealt with elite boarding schools, “disconnected youth,” misogynoir, voice literature and African-American Vernacular English. His doctoral work at the University of Oxford focused on Thatcher and Reagan-era government-supported educational policymaking and “rhetoric and realities” in the United States and England. His original D.Phil., Politics, ethnographic research at St. Catherine's College, University of Oxford, focused on the communities of Brixton, South London and Harlem, New York. He received his undergraduate degree in Political Science (with advanced studies in Spanish language) from Columbia University and taught at London University and Columbia University. On the faculty at Columbia University, he was nominated for the Van Doren Outstanding Professor Award in 1990, 1991, 1992, and 1994. Dr. Long has served as an Oxford University delegate to the Fulbright Commission on matters of international education, and has served on the Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee for the State of New York.
A former Phi Beta Kappa Committee Chair at Columbia University, he was subsequently the chairman of the Dons’ Committee in the Honors Program of Bennett College.

Professor Benny Morris
Morrisbenny8@gmail.com
Benny Morris is a Professor at Ben Gurion University and Georgetown University. He was born in Israel and grew up in Jerusalem and New York. He studied at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Cambridge University. He was a journalist at The Jerusalem Post for over a decade, and has been teaching Middle Eastern History at Ben-Gurion University since 1997. He has written a number of books on the Israeli-Arab conflict (most of which were published by either Oxford University Press, Cambridge University Press or Yale University Press).
Professor David Patterson
dxp103120@utdallas.edu
David Patterson holds the Hillel A. Feinberg Chair in Holocaust Studies, Ackerman Center for Holocaust Studies, University of Texas at Dallas. A winner of the National Jewish Book Award, the Koret Jewish Book Award, and the Holocaust Scholars’ eternal Flame Award, Professor Patterson has published over 35 books and more than 200 articles, essays, and book chapters on topics in literature, philosophy, the Holocaust, and Jewish studies. His most recent books include: Portraits: Elie Wiesel’s Hasidic Legacy (forthcoming), The Holocaust and the Non-Representable (2018), Anti-Semitism and Its Metaphysical Origins (2015); Genocide in Jewish Thought (2012); and A Genealogy of Evil: Anti-Semitism from Nazism to Islamic Jihad (2010).

Laura Prusoff
lprusoff@mac.com
Laura Prusoff is an expert in photography, with a specialization in culinary anthropology and ethnology. Originally from New Haven, Connecticut, Laura Prusoff currently resides in Ortahisar, Turkey. She received degrees from Southern Connecticut State College (1974) and Sarah Lawrence College (1976). She has been traveling the world for over forty years, observing and absorbing cultures and religious beliefs.

Professor Uzi Rabi
urabi@post.tau.ac.il
Professor Uzi Rabi is the Director of the Moshe Dayan Center for Middle Eastern and African Studies and a senior researcher in the Center for Iranian Studies at Tel Aviv University. He is the former Chair of the Department of Middle Eastern and African History at Tel Aviv University. His fields of specialization include: oil and politics in the Middle East; Iranian-Arab relations; and Sunni-Shi’i tensions. Professor Rabi is the author of numerous publications, academic articles, and book reviews. His most recent publications include the edited volume International Intervention in Local Conflicts (I.B. Tauris 2010) and Yemen: Revolution, Civil War and Unification (I.B. Tauris 2014). His forthcoming book project is titled States and Religion in the Era of Revolution: The Changing Face of the 21st Century Middle East. Professor Rabi is regularly invited by the Israeli Knesset to deliver updates and briefs on developments in the Middle East.
President Kevin D. Rome

On July 1, 2017, Dr. Kevin D. Rome, Sr. became the 16th President of Fisk University in Nashville, Tennessee. Prior to beginning the presidency at Fisk, Rome served as the 19th President of Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Missouri from June 2013 to June 2017.

Dr. Kevin Rome has had an immediate impact at Fisk University. In his first year, the university has increased its freshman enrollment by approximately 100 percent, increased overall fundraising totals by 13 percent, increased alumni giving by three percentage points, and increased overall employee giving by 117 percent. In spring 2018, Dr. Rome and his family made a donation pledge of $50,000 over five years.

While president at Lincoln University, the university witnessed a 50 percent increase in freshman enrollment in addition to the creation of new institutional programs and academic initiatives. Rome is credited with the increase in funding from state appropriations for land-grant status, increasing the state match from $500,000 to $2.5 million in 2017 as a result of continued advocacy. He also worked collaboratively with Jefferson City Parks and Recreation to erect a $13 million, 80,000 square foot wellness and multipurpose center on campus. On a personal note, the Dr. Kevin and Stefanie Rome Endowed Scholarship Fund was established at Lincoln University to assist deserving students in need.

With over 25 years in higher education, Rome has served in various capacities of university administration. He has served as Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management at North Carolina Central University, Vice President for Student Services at Morehouse College, Vice President for Campus Life at Clayton State University, and Assistant Vice Chancellor for Student Life and Diversity at Indiana University-Purdue University, Indianapolis.

Rome’s career has been deeply rooted in higher education, beginning at Georgia Southwestern College in Americus, Georgia as a Residence Hall Supervisor. From 1989 to 1991, he served as a Residence Director, Greek Advisor, and Financial Aid Counselor at the University of Georgia. In 1991, he joined the staff of California Polytechnic State University in San Luis Obispo, California as the Coordinator of Student Development. During his time at California Polytechnic State University, he received two promotions, serving as Academic Development Specialist and later as Education and Training Specialist. Additionally, Rome has served as Assistant Dean of Students in the area of New Student Services at the University of Texas at Austin. He was promoted to Assistant Dean of Students in the area of Campus and Community Involvement.

President Rome currently serves on the Historically Black Colleges and Universities Educational Testing Service (HBCU-ETS Steering Committee) Steering Committee, is a member of the class of Leadership Nashville 2019, and is a member of Rotary Club of Nashville.

Rome earned the Bachelor of Art degree in English from Morehouse College in Atlanta, Georgia in 1989. He received the Master of Education in College Student Personnel with an emphasis in counseling from the University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia, in 1991, and the Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration from the University of Texas at Austin in Austin, Texas in 2001. Dr. Kevin D. Rome, Sr. is married to Stefanie Rome. They both reside in Nashville, Tennessee with their two children, Kevin Rome, Jr. and Kendel Rome.
Haras Rafiq
haras@outlook.com
Haras Rafiq is Managing Director of the Quilliam think tank in London. He was formerly a member of the UK government task force looking to counter extremism in response to the 2005 terrorist bombings in London. He is also a peer mentor for IDeA – advising regional government agencies. In addition, Mr. Rafiq has worked on a number of projects relating to the analysis of radicalization, as well as the deradicalization of extremists, and has presented on a number of academic and political platforms, nationally and internationally. As part of his work, he is committed to countering xenophobia and hatred, and has spoken at many conferences and events, including the Global Forum on Combating Antisemitism (December 2009). In 2010, he was also a Chair of a Working Group of the Global Experts’ Forum on Antisemitism in Ottawa.

Ella Rose
Ellarose1993@hotmail.co.uk
Ella is the Equalities Officer and a former National Director of the Jewish Labour Movement, the Labour Party’s Jewish affiliate. She is a former President of the Union of Jewish Students, where she is now a trustee, as well as being a trustee of Yachad. In 2015, she was named the most influential British Jew under the age of 25, and in 2017, she was named the second most influential British Jew under 30.

Dr. David M. Seymour
David.seymour.1@city.ac.uk
Dr. David M. Seymour is a Senior Lecturer in Law at City Law School, City, University of London. He has written extensively on critical theories of antisemitism with special focus on the Holocaust and Holocaust memory. He studied law at the Polytechnic of the South Bank between 1983 and 1986. In 1989, he was awarded an LLM from the London School of Economics. In 2000, he gained his PhD in Social and Critical Theory from Warwick University.
Professor Yossi Shain
Shain.yossi@gmail.com
Yossi Shain is the Romulo Betancourt Professor of Political Science at Tel Aviv University, where he also serves as Chairman of the Political Science Department, head of the Abba Eban Graduate Studies Program in Diplomacy, and Director of the Frances Brody Institute for Applied Diplomacy. He is also a Full Professor of Comparative Government and Diaspora Politics at Georgetown University, and the Founding Director of the Program for Jewish Civilization (PJC) at Georgetown. In 2007, he also served (pro-bono) as President of Western Galilee College.
Professor Shain earned his BA in Philosophy (1981) and MA in Political Science (1983) from Tel Aviv University and received his PhD in Political Science from Yale University in 1988.
He was also head of the Hartog School of Government from 2003 to 2007 and co-director (with Peter Berkowitz) of the Israel Program on Constitutional Government (2003-2008). Professor Shain has held numerous visiting appointments, including at Sciences Po in Paris, Yale University, Wesleyan University, the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, and Middlebury College. He was also a Visiting Fellow at St. Antony's College, Oxford University, and Senior Visiting Fellow at the Center of International Studies at Princeton University. He has lectured around the world and was honored as the David and Goldie Blanksteine in Jewish Ethics at Yale Law School (2000), as Olin Lecturer at the Harvard Lecturer Academy (2002), and as the Aaron and Cecile Goldman Chair at Georgetown University (1999-2002). His latest book, The Israeli Century and the Israelization of Judaism, is a bestseller that has won national acclaim in his country. It will be published in English in 2020.

Professor Katya Gibel Mevorach
gibel@grinnell.edu
Katya Gibel Mevorach is a Professor in the Anthropology Department and the Chair of the American Studies Concentration at Grinnell College in Grinnell, Iowa. She earned her PhD in Cultural Anthropology from Duke University. Prof. Gibel Mevorach received her BA and MA in African Studies from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem in Israel.
Under the name Katya Gibel Azoulay, Professor Gibel Mevorach authored Black, Jewish and Interracial: It's Not the Color of Your Skin but the Race of Your Kin, and Other Myths of Identity (Duke University Press, 1997), an explication of identities in the public sphere. Journals in which her articles, review essays and position papers have appeared, include: American Anthropologist, American Ethnologist, Biography, Developing World Bioethics, Identities, Cultural Studies, Research in African Literatures, Noga (Israeli Feminist Journal) and The Jerusalem Post (Israel). Gibel Mevorach has dual American - Israeli citizenship. She moved to Israel in 1970 after graduating from The Brearley School in New York and returned to the U.S. in 1991 to pursue doctoral studies and joined the faculty at Grinnell College in January 1996.
Natan Sharansky

natansharansky@gmail.com

Natan Sharansky was born in 1948 in Donetsk, Ukraine. He was a spokesman for the human rights movement, a prisoner of conscience and leader in the struggle for the right of Soviet Jews to immigrate to Israel. Mr. Sharansky was a founding member of the Helsinki Group, which monitored violations of international agreements of different religious and national groups in the Soviet Union. He worked closely with Andrei Sakharov, the renowned Soviet human rights activist, and kept close contact with foreign media beyond the iron curtain.

In 1977, a Soviet newspaper alleged that Mr. Sharansky was collaborating with the CIA. Despite denials from every level of the U.S. government, Mr. Sharansky was found guilty and sentenced to thirteen years in prison, including solitary confinement and hard labor. In the courtroom prior to the announcement of the verdict, Mr. Sharansky in a public statement said: “To the court I have nothing to say – to my wife and the Jewish people I say, ‘Next Year in Jerusalem.’” After nine years of imprisonment, due to an intense international campaign led by his wife, Avital, Mr. Sharansky was released on February 11, 1986, immigrated to Israel and moved to Jerusalem that same day.

In Israel, he became active in the integration of Soviet Jews and formed the Zionist Forum, an umbrella organization of former Soviet activist groups dedicated to helping new Israelis and educating the public about absorption issues. The final chapter of the historic struggle for the release of Soviet Jews was the historic rally of over 250,000 people in Washington in 1987, of which Natan Sharansky was the initiator and driving force, during Mikhail Gorbachev’s first visit to the US capital.

In 1996, he established the Yisrael B’Aliyah party in order to accelerate the integration of new immigrants into Israeli society. He served in four successive Israeli governments as a Minister and Deputy Prime Minister. In 2009, Sharansky was appointed Chairman of the Executive of the Jewish Agency for Israel. The mission of the Jewish Agency is to guarantee the future of the Jewish People by strengthening the connection of every Jew to the State of Israel and to the Jewish People. In 2018, he received the highest Israeli award - the Israel Prize, for promoting Aliyah and the ingathering of the exiles.

Mr. Sharansky is the recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Presidential Medal of Freedom. He is the only living non-American citizen who is the recipient of these two highest American awards. He is also the author of three books: Fear No Evil, The Case for Democracy, and Defending Identity. He remains a champion of the right of all people to live in freedom and believes that the advancement of human rights is critical to peace and security around the world.
Marlon Solomon
Marlonsolomon2@googlemail.com
Marlon is an actor/musician from Manchester. His first one-man show has hit the zeitgeist and is the first one-person show to be performed in Parliament as well as being discussed in the political pages of The Guardian, The New Statesman and Prospect Magazine.

Dr. Jonathan Spyer
Jonathan.spyer@gmail.com
Jonathan Spyer is Executive Director of the Middle East Center for Reporting and Analysis (MECRA). He is also a research fellow at the Jerusalem Institute for Strategy and Security (JISS), and a fellow at the Middle East Forum. Spyer is a freelance security analyst for Jane’s Intelligence Review and writes the “Behind the Lines” column at The Jerusalem Post. He is the author of Days of the Fall: A Reporter’s Journey in the Syria and Iraq Wars (Routledge, 2017), which deals with his experiences of frontline reporting, and The Transforming Fire: The Rise of the Israel-Islamist Conflict (Continuum, 2010). Spyer holds a PhD in International Relations from the London School of Economics and a Master’s degree in Middle East Politics from the School of Oriental and African Studies in London. He is a contributor to The Australian newspaper, Foreign Policy magazine and The Wall Street Journal.

Prof. Dr. Bassam Tibi
B.Tibi@sowi.uni-goettingen.de
Bassam Tibi is Professor Emeritus of International Relations, University of Göttingen, where he taught from 1973 until his retirement in 2009. He was born in Damascus, (he descends from the centuries-old noble family of Banu a-Tibi) and since 1974 has been a German citizen. Following his retirement, he served as the Resnick Scholar for the Study of Antisemitism at the Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington. In 2011, he was chosen without application for an appointment as the Visiting Koret Foundation Fellow at Stanford University. In 2009, he was a Senior Research Fellow at the Yale Initiative for the Interdisciplinary Study of Antisemitism (YIIA-ISGAP). Professor Tibi is the author of a number of books, including: The Shari’a-State: Arab Spring and Democratization (Routledge Press, 2013), Islamism and Islam (Yale University Press, 2012), and Islam in Global Politics. Conflict and Cross-Cultural Bridging (Routledge Press, 2012), as well as nine earlier books published in English in the US. His comprehensive work on Islam, titled Islam’s Predicament with Modernity: Religious Reform and Cultural Change (Routledge Press), was published in 2009. His most recent book, the 2nd edition of Political Islam, World Politics and Europe, was released in 2014.
Professor Olufemi Vaughan

ovaughan@amherst.edu

Olufemi (Femi) Vaughan is the Alfred Sargent Lee and Mary Ames Lee Professor of African Studies at Amherst College. He is the author and editor of ten books and over eighty scholarly articles and reviews, including: Religion and the Making of Nigeria (Duke University Press, 2016; 2017 Nigerian Studies Association Book Prize) and Nigerian Chiefs: Traditional Power in Modern Politics, 1890s-1990s (University of Rochester Press, 2000; 2001 Cecil B. Currey Book Prize – Association of Global South Studies). He was professor of Africana Studies and History, and associate provost at the State University of New York, Stony Brook; and Geoffrey Canada Professor of Africana Studies and History, and director of Africana Studies at Bowdoin College. Professor Vaughan is co-editor of the Routledge Handbook on Contemporary Nigeria, senior editor of the Oxford Research Encyclopedia of Methods, Sources, and Historiography in African History, and a member of the advisory council of the Africa Program, Wilson Center. He is the recipient of several professional awards, including a Wilson National Fellowship, Wilson Public Policy fellowships, Ford Foundation fellowships, a Distinguished Scholars Award of the Association of Global South Studies, and a State University of New York Chancellor’s Award for Excellence in Teaching.

---

Rabbi Akiva Zweig

akivazweig@gmail.com

Rabbi Akiva Zweig is the Rosh (Head) Yeshiva of the Talmudic College of Florida in Miami Beach, Florida. He also studied several years at Ner Israel Rabbinical College in Baltimore, Maryland and in several yeshivot in Israel. He has also served as the rabbi of several South Florida synagogues, both Ashkenazi and Sephardi.

Rabbi Zweig graduated from Talmudic University of Florida with a Master’s degree in Talmudic Law in 1995, and then continued on in the faculty, teaching in the high school, as well as in the university in both the undergraduate and graduate programs. He lectures at the highest levels on scripture, Talmudic law, Jewish history, Jewish philosophy and Jewish ethics.

Currently, Rabbi Zweig is a Rosh Yeshiva at Talmudic College of Florida. He teaches a variety of weekly and daily classes, including Talmud, Jewish Perspective, Jewish Philosophy, Prayer, and Jewish Ethics. He oversees the staff, as well as the self-development of young Jewish college students. He helps prepare them for careers and leadership, in both the Jewish world and the secular work world.

Additionally, Rabbi Zweig teaches weekly classes to men and women of all ages of the broader South Florida Jewish community. Rabbi Zweig is also a licensed facilitator of the Franklin Covey 7 Habits Signature Program. He lectures in seminars and does private coaching and counseling. He has lectured extensively in a wide range of Jewish subjects in schools, synagogues and workshops, including Passover programs and weekend retreats across America and in other countries.
Dr. Charles Asher Small
Charles.small@isgap.org
Dr. Charles Asher Small is the Founding Director of the Institute for the Study of Global Antisemitism and Policy (ISGAP). He is also the Goldman Fellow at the Harold Hartog School of Government and Policy, and Senior Research Fellow at the Moshe Dayan Center for Middle East and African Studies, Tel Aviv University. In September, Charles will be a Visiting Scholar and Senior Member at St. Antony’s College, Oxford University.

He received his Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, McGill University, Montreal; M.Sc. in Urban Development Planning in Economics, Development Planning Unit (DPU), University College London; and a Doctorate of Philosophy (D.Phil), St. Antony’s College, Oxford University. He completed post-doctorate research at the Groupement de recherche ethniciété et société, Université de Montréal. He was the VATAT Research Fellow (Ministry of Higher Education) at Ben-Gurion University, Beersheva, and taught in departments of sociology and geography at Goldsmiths’ College, University of London; Tel Aviv University; and the Institute of Urban Studies, the Hebrew University, Jerusalem. Charles was the Founding Director of the Yale Initiative for the Interdisciplinary Study of Antisemitism (YIISA), the first interdisciplinary research center on antisemitism at a North American university. At Yale he taught in the Political Science Department and the Program on Ethics, Politics and Economics, and ran a post-doctorate and graduate studies fellowship program at YIISA. Previously, he was the Koret Distinguished Fellow, Hoover Institution, Stanford University. He lectured internationally and worked as a consultant and policy advisor in North America, Europe, Southern Africa, and the Middle East. Dr. Small specializes in social and cultural theory, globalization and national identity, socio-cultural policy, social movements, and racism(s) – including antisemitism(s).

He is the author of books and articles including the six-volume Global Antisemitism: A Crisis of Modernity (Brill and ISGAP); The Yale Papers: Antisemitism in Comparative Perspective (ISGAP, 2015); Antisemitism in Comparative Perspective: Volume Two (2016); and Social Theory – a Historical Analysis of Canadian Socio-cultural Policies Race and the Other (Eleven International Publishers, 2013). Dr. Small is committed to creating scholarly programming and research on contemporary antisemitism at top tier universities internationally, and establishing contemporary antisemitism studies as a recognized academic discipline.
Michael Whine
Mike.W@cst.org.uk
Michael Whine has worked for the Community Security Trust since 1986 and is currently Government and International Affairs Director. He is a member of the UK Government Hate Crime Independent Advisors Group, and the Crown Prosecution Service Hate Crime Scrutiny Panel, a self-tasking body of experts led by senior government counsel who scrutinise and advise on hate crime prosecutions. He is also a member of the External Reference Group for the national police inspection into policing responses to hate crime.

Between 1986 and 2013, he was Director of Defense and Group Relations at the Board of Deputies of British Jews, and Consultant on Defense and Security for the European Jewish Congress.

Between 2010 and 2012, he acted as Lay Advisor to the Crown Prosecution Service Counter Terrorism Division, organizing workshops on terrorist ideologies for prosecutors.

In 2013, he was appointed the UK Member of ECRI, a standing commission of the Council of Europe which advises member states on human rights issues and monitors their compliance with the European Convention on Human Rights. He is also a member of the ECRI Working Group on Civil Society.

For the past two years he has been involved in drafting and advising on the “Words into Action” program to enhance the security of European Jewish communities, on behalf of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE).

He is the author of over thirty book chapters and papers on terrorism, extremism, hate crime, and antisemitism in peer-reviewed publications and journals.
ISGAP STAFF

Ira Guberman – Manager of Programming & Operations
ira.guberman@isgap.org
Ira Guberman is the Manager of Programming and Operations for ISGAP. Based at ISGAP’s headquarters in Manhattan, Guberman serves as the hub of ISGAP’s global activities, and leads the coordination of the organization’s international projects. In New York City, he coordinates the seminar series on contemporary forms of antisemitism at the ISGAP Center and Columbia Law School. Additionally, he disseminates ISGAP communications to the organization’s network of supporters and regularly liaises with the various branches of ISGAP. He earned a Bachelor of Arts in International Relations at the University of Delaware. At the University of Pittsburgh, he acquired his Master’s degree in Public and International Affairs while majoring in Security and Intelligence Studies. He served as a Masa Israel Teaching Fellow in Rehovot, Israel, and was a Fundraising Fellow at the American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC).

Dr. Robert Hassan – Director, ISGAP Italy
robert.hassan@isgap.org
Robert Hassan is the Director of ISGAP Italy, where he runs the seminar on critical studies of contemporary forms of antisemitism at Sapienza University in Rome. He holds a Law Degree from Sapienza University, where he specialized in Comparative Constitutional Law. Dr. Hassan is an entrepreneur in the field of strategies and communication. With more than 15 years of experience in managing complex projects with organizations, he has achieved wide-ranging access with the media in Italy. He has designed and implemented strategies and communication plans for governments, businesses, and foreign and domestic enterprises. He has handled the largest collection of materials and documents on the Holocaust in Italy. Dr. Hassan is the founding partner of the “Summit and Remembrance Forum,” organizing the largest European event in support of Israel and numerous other events concerning the Middle East. He is a published author, lecturer, and analyst of political strategies and scenarios in conflicts.

Jake Izenberg – Summer Institute Coordinator
jakeizenberg@gmail.com
Jack Izenberg graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from Concordia University, Montreal, where he majored in Political Science. He completed a DEC in Commerce at John Abbott College, Montreal. He participated in multiple educational programs related to diversity. After witnessing various social protests on campus, especially the antisemitic BDS (Boycott, Divestment, and Sanctions) movement, Jacob’s drive to make positive social changes grew stronger. Jacob is passionate about bringing people together, social justice and diversity. He strongly believes in bringing different cultures together to learn and grow.
Elie Wiesel – Martin Luther King Jr. Faculty Fellows
Faculty mentors available for the Wiesel-King Scholars

Dr. Rikesha L. Fry Brown
rikesha.frybrown@hamptonu.edu
Dr. Rikesha L. Fry Brown is Director of the Freddye T. Davy Honors College in Hampton, Virginia. An Honors College alumna, Dr. Fry Brown graduated cum laude from Hampton University, where she earned a Bachelor of Arts in psychology with an emphasis in education. She earned a Master of Counselor Education with concentrations in both school guidance and mental health counseling from Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University. Dr. Fry Brown earned a PhD in Counseling Psychology from Howard University. Prior to returning to Hampton, Dr. Fry Brown was an adjunct professor in the psychology departments of Clark Atlanta University and Spelman College, and the co-founder and clinician of the Kindred Family Wellness Group, a counseling, consulting and coaching practice in the Atlanta area; there she specialized in working with children, youth, young adults and women, with experience working with families, couples and parents. A speaker, presenter and trainer, she has delivered presentations to groups, organizations and religious institutions across the United States and South Africa. Dr. Rikesha Fry Brown’s primary research focuses on the psychological and social implications of mediated images for African-American women.

Professor Gabriel Noah Brahm
Gabriel.brahm@gmail.com
Professor Gabriel Noah Brahm is the Director of the Center for Academic and Intellectual Freedom at Northern Michigan University, where he also teaches courses in world literature, film studies, political theory and philosophical anthropology; the Senior Research Fellow at the University of Haifa’s Herzl Institute for the Study of Zionism; and the Legal Insurrection Foundation’s recently appointed Senior Research Scholar. He has been a visiting professor at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, and a visiting scholar at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum’s Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies, where he served as a member of the team that produced the 2010 white paper, “Antisemitism in Higher Education.” His recent published works include The Case Against Academic Boycotts of Israel (coedited with Cary Nelson), and an essay on “Intersectionality,” in the summer 2019 issue of the journal, Israel Studies (which has been widely reviewed in places like Ha'aretz, Fathom, and Legal Insurrection).
Heather Mann
heather.mann@lincoln.ox.ac.uk
Heather Mann is currently completing a DPhil in History at the University of Oxford, United Kingdom, on the subject of Holocaust education under the supervision of Professor Robert Gildea and Dr Laura Tisdall. Thesis, ‘Holocaust memory and its mediation by teachers: its study in three European cities’ uses oral history to study teachers’ memory of the Holocaust in Lincoln in Britain, in Aix-en-Provence in France and Linz in Austria to study the evolution of Holocaust education, memory and national mythology inside the classroom.

Her project focuses on three cities with dark histories of antisemitism. The city of Linz was incredibly supportive of Hitler’s rule, was a centre of Austrofascism from 1934, and Mauthausen, the principal concentration camp in Austria bordered the city. In Aix-en-Provence, the Jewish community, along with 2000 Jews from Eastern Europe were interned in 1941 in the Camp des Milles on the border of the city. Lincoln contrastingly enjoys a positive collective memory of the Second World War and has no explicit connections with the Holocaust. However, the city was the centre of medieval British ‘blood libel’, a history which has lingered into the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. By studying the memory of teachers between 1986 and present day, her research unpicks everyday attitudes towards the Holocaust, from the perspective of teachers, who act as memory practitioners and mediators as they select which narratives to present to their students.

Before embarking on her DPhil, she completed her Masters at the University of Oxford under the supervision of Professor Nicholas Stargardt, researching ‘What do changes in teaching the Holocaust reveal about British memory, myths and identity?’ She previously worked as the researcher for the collection of speeches ‘Anti-Semitism: The Oldest Hatred’ (2015) whilst teaching History and Mathematics in South-East England and in Cologne, Germany for four years. Her interest in education and persecution began in 2008, when she travelled with James Smith to Rwanda, during his establishment of the Kigali Memorial Centre and Museum.
Media Team

Samuel Sokol
samuelsokol@icloud.com
Sam Sokol is a freelance journalist based in the Jerusalem area. A former correspondent for the Jerusalem Post and the Israel Broadcasting Authority (IBA), his work has appeared in Haaretz, the Times of Israel, the Forward, the Jewish Chronicle and the Columbia Journalism Review. Sokol received the 2015 B’nai B’rith Diaspora Reportage Award for his work on the Jews of revolutionary Ukraine and is a Research Fellow at the Institute for the Study of Global Antisemitism and Policy (ISGAP), which recently published his book, Putin’s Hybrid War and the Jews: Antisemitism, Propaganda, and the Displacement of Ukrainian Jewry.

Will Dawson
Will.dawson@rawpictures.co.uk
Will Dawson - RAW Pictures - Camera crew. RAW Pictures have been tasked with documenting the entire ISGAP Summer Institute on camera for promotional and informative use online. Will is Creative Director at RAW Pictures, heading up all the filming and editing for RAW and their clients. Will is a great believer in working with not for profits and charitable organizations to create engaging video content to help them.

Will Littlewood
Will.littlewood@rawpictures.co.uk
Will Littlewood, RAW Pictures, Camera crew. RAW Pictures have been tasked with documenting the entire ISGAP Summer Institute on camera for promotional and informative use online. Will is the head of production at RAW, managing all projects that come into the business and working with clients to ensure they're happy with the films they receive. Will has worked with ISGAP in the past and looks forward to another successful year at the Summer Institute.
Scholars-in-Residence

Dr. Vincent Arnold
arnold@cord.edu

Dr. Vincent Arnold is a professor in the Department of History and serves as the Chair of the Division of Humanities at Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota. His research specialization focuses on comparative fascism. Dr. Arnold earned his BA at Mount Vernon Nazarene College, his MA and Ph.D. at Miami University, has completed postdoctoral studies at the Università degli studi di Roma, and served as a visiting scholar at the American Academy of Rome. He authored The Illusion of Victory: Fascist Propaganda and the Second World War and has published several articles and reviews in scholarly and popular journals. Dr. Arnold has received grants from the Rotary International Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Ford Foundation, the Holocaust Educational Foundation and the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. He won the Flaat Distinguished Teaching Award and has taught in the honor’s program at Concordia College. His current research project is tentatively titled Mussolini’s Soldiers of Sport: The Fascist Glorification of Sport and the Legacy of Ancient Rome. Dr. Arnold has previously served as Chair of the Department of History, Secretary of the Faculty, Associate Director of International Education, Chair of the Core Curriculum Committee, and representative of the Concordia Italian Language Village Advisory Board at Concordia College. Among numerous courses, he currently teaches an upper division course on “Hitler’s Germany” and an introductory course on “Germany, the Third Reich and the Holocaust” for the college’s honor’s program.

Dr. Lawrence Amsel
Lamsel01@gmail.com

Dr. Lawrence Amsel is an academic psychiatrist on the faculty of Columbia University. His areas of focus is in understanding the long term effects of psychological trauma, the applications of Behavioral Economics and Game Theory to psychiatry, and interface of Psychiatry and the Law. He recently co-edited a book entitled: An International Perspective on Disasters and Children’s Mental Health, to be published in Summer 2019 by Springer. He is also working on a book On Mathematical Models in Psychiatry for Oxford University Press. He is a child of Holocaust survivors, which has been a key influence in every corner of his life, from becoming a healer focused on trauma, to his political and philosophical commitments. As a child and young man, he received a classic, old-world Yeshiva education (largely in Yiddish) with its emphasis on Talmud and ethical behavior. Later he was active in the Soviet Jewry movement and student support for Israel. These experiences of political activism have remained important throughout his life. The pleasures of rigorous thinking that he first encountered in studying Talmud later led to a major in Mathematics at Columbia College. But once in mathematics grad school he concluded that he needed to be more involved in addressing the emotional aspects of people’s lives. He switched directions and attended Yale University School of Medicine followed by a Psychiatry Residency. Subsequently, he completed a Master’s in Public Health, and joined the faculty of the Columbia University medical school. For a number of years following 9/11, he co-directed the Columbia clinic specifically funded to focus on victims of that terrorist attack. In this capacity he encountered a large number of police officers, firefighters, and other First Responders, as well as financial professionals.
Evaldas Balčiūnas
evaldasbalciunas@yahoo.com
Evaldas Balčiūnas is a freelance publicist mainly focused on antisemitism. He is active in the Lithuanian anti-neo-Nazi movement and has written about the rehabilitation of Holocaust collaborators in contemporary Lithuania. He is a frequent lecturer at Lumi (Free University). He was recently invited by the Heinrich Böll Foundation to deliver a lecture on the Holocaust in Berlin. Last year, he collaborated with Dr. A. Kulikauskas in a research project highlighting the process of memory policy formation in contemporary Lithuania. Evaldas Balčiūnas was born in 1962 in Šiauliai, Lithuania, during the Soviet period and had a number of run-ins with the KGB in connection with his social democratic activism. He later became active in the labor union movement during Perestroika. He has translated two books, N. Mancho, Rusijos Revolucija Ukrainoje (Russian Revolution in Ukraine, 2011) and L. Tolstoy, Uždraustasis Tolstojuš (Forbidden Tolstoy, 2012).

Shakked Beery
wjewess@gmail.com
Shakked Beery receive her BA in Israel Studies (Haifa University as of 2018), is a licensed Tour Guide in Israel (Israeli Ministry of Tourism as of 2011), and is a certified Tour Educator (Taglit-Birthright Training Institution as of 2012). She has eight years experience as a Tour Guide and Educator, specializing in Israel advocacy. In 2017 she launched a business "The Wandering Jewess", providing content development services as well as "Talks Around the Globe”, as well as tour guiding. Shakked has impressive achievements in rhetorical performance, logistical and organizational abilities, content development for various ventures and fundraising. In addition, her experience includes content development (2017-2019) for ARShow, educational content development AR Bible-Study Program (2016-2017) by Compedia, and as a program creator and leader (2009-2011) at "Minsharim Kalu" pre-military school.
Michael Benn
mbenn@gts.edu
Michael Benn is employed as an attorney, specializing in employee relations and the implementation of diversity/inclusion policies and programs. He is a graduate of both Cornell University and the Temple University School of Law. He was the Director of Legal Affairs and Affirmative Action at Wesleyan University, where he was responsible for campus-wide diversity and equity issues. He is currently a full-time Master’s of Divinity candidate focusing on the intersections of religion, social justice activism and art, as well as a hospital chaplain and seminarian on the staff of Saint Luke’s Episcopal Church’s Fresh Start Program in Columbia, South Carolina.

Maxine Bleich
mbleich@vesc-education.com
From 1965-1997, Bleich led the Minorities in Medicine (MIM) Program at the Josiah Macy, Jr. Foundation (Macy). Through the 1960s and 1970s MIM brought together historically Black Colleges (HBCUs) with medical schools to establish recruitment programs; strengthened premedical advisory services at HBCUs; sponsored a Post-Baccaulaureate Program to strengthen the science preparation of pre-medical minority students; supported bridging programs at medical schools; and created a Faculty Fellowship Program to ensure the success of minority faculty in medical schools.
In the 1980s, Macy created a national high school program to establish an academically rigorous course of study to ensure minority students’ success in college premedical programs. In the late 1990s, Macy asked Bleich to establish and lead a not-for-profit, Ventures in Education (VIE), to expand the success of the high school programs. With federal and philanthropic support, the number of Macy-like high school programs and their success expanded, and an educational approach, The Ventures Initiative and Focus (VIF), was established. In the early 2000s, with support from the US federal government, school districts and schools had the requisite funding to direct their own academic and instructional improvement, and VIE established Ventures Education Systems Corporation (VESC), to meet those needs through the application of VIF. While VESC ceased operations in 2015, VIE continues to be an important recruitment tool for undergraduate colleges seeking to enroll “students of color.”

Professor Sonia Bloomfield
soniabloom@gmail.com
Professor Bloomfield teaches cultural anthropology at the University of Maryland University College and is the translator/editor of the Portuguese version of the Encyclopedia of the Holocaust of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. She was born in Brazil and previously taught at the University of Brasilia. Her research interests include Jewish identities in Brazil (anussim, New Christians and Jews), Latin American kibbutzim, and the relationship between politics, rituals, identities, sacred spaces, and terrorism.
Isai del Bosque
Ixd110630@utdallas.edu
Isai del Bosque is a doctoral candidate at the School of Arts and Humanities at the University of Texas at Dallas. He earned his master’s degree from UT Dallas, and in the fall will begin his fifth semester of doctoral studies with a concentration in the History of Ideas. His childhood as the son of missionaries in Mexico left a lasting impression, influencing him to study issues of ethics, religion, and the Holocaust.

Daulet Botpayev
Dulya333@gmail.com
Daulet was born in Almaty, Kazakhstan. At the age of 16, he went to study at Queen Ethelburga’s Collegiate school in York, England. He completed his foundation course and was named student of the year for 2009-10. After this he completed A-level courses in Business studies and sociology and enrolled at the University of Exeter in 2012 for a BA in Politics and Sociology. He went on to postgraduate work in HR Management at the university. In 2016, he returned to Kazakhstan and entered the real estate industry. He transformed two old properties into a thriving small business center and fitness center. Botpayev has also been studying for a DBA and working as a lecturer at Almaty Management University, where he helps students to develop their management skills in real-life situations one will encounter in the business world.

Professor Ellen Cannon
cannoncgp@aol.com
Dr. Ellen Cannon is a Professor of Political Science and Jewish Studies at Northeastern Illinois University. She is an expert on American Jewish politics as well as the growth and ideology of the BDS movement and the ideologies of terror organizations. She is the author of “Contemporary Jewish Politics and Historiography: The Case of the BDS Movement,” in Dean Phillip Bell (ed.), The Routledge Companion to Jewish History and Historiography (2019), and “The BDS and Anti-BDS Movements: Propaganda War vs. Interest Group Articulation,” in the Jewish Political Science Review (Fall 2019). Professor Cannon is a member of the Wexner Heritage Program and the Academic Engagement Network (AEN) as well as a board member of the American Jewish Committee.
James Cogman
James.cogman@yale.edu
James Cogman is Master of Divinity candidate at Yale University in New Haven, CT. While at Yale James has served as the President of the Yale Methodist Society, Treasurer of the Yale Black Seminarians, and President of the Black Graduate Network at Yale. As President of the Black Graduate Network, James reimagined the infrastructure of the organization by rewriting the constitution and adding new positions to the team. He also envisioned and oversaw the implementation of a mentoring program between the graduate and undergraduate students of Yale as well as programming engaging Yale students with the greater New Haven community. Upon gradation from Yale in December, James plans to immediately enroll in an MBA/MPA program to further pursue his interest at the intersection of faith, business, and politics. James is a scholar-athlete Magna Cum Laude graduate of Claflin University where he received a B.A. in Politics and Justice Studies, and a B.A. in Psychology. James is passionate about building bridges, connecting people, and seeing the world not for what it is, but for what it could be. James a sought-after speaker, leader, and innovator, who lives everyday by being the change he wants to see in the world.

Professor Daniel Dayan
Dayan.daniel28@gmail.com
Daniel Dayan is a French social scientist. A fellow of the Marcel Mauss Institute at Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales, and of the Levinas European Institute, Dayan has been Director of Research in Sociology at the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, professor of Media Theory at the Institut d'Etudes Politiques, (Sciences-po) Paris and a Hans Speier Visiting Professor at the New School for Social Research, New York. Dayan holds degrees in Anthropology, Comparative Literature, Semiotics and Film Studies from the Sorbonne, Stanford University and L'Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales, where he received a PhD in Aesthetics under the direction of Roland Barthes. His most recent books are La Terreur spectacle: Terrorisme et Télévision (Paris. INA-De Boek, 2006; translated into Portuguese in 2009), Televisao Das Audiencias aos Publicos (with Jose Carlos Abrantes, Lisboa, Livros Horizonte, 2006) and Owning the Olympics: Narratives of the New China (with Monroe Price, NY, Michigan University Press, 2008).
Professor Marc Dollinger
mdolling@sfsu.edu

Dr. Marc Dollinger holds the Richard and Rhoda Goldman Endowed Chair in Jewish Studies and Social Responsibility at San Francisco State University.

He has served as research fellow at Princeton University’s Center for the Study of Religion as well as the Andrew W. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow and Lecturer in the Humanities at Bryn Mawr College, where he coordinated the program in Jewish Studies.

Professor Dollinger is author of four scholarly books in American Jewish history, most recently Black Power, Jewish Politics: Reinventing The Alliance in the 1960s. His next project traces his own experience fighting campus antisemitism at both right-wing and left-wing universities.

Dr. Dollinger is a past president of both the Jewish Community High School of the Bay and Brandeis Hillel Day School, and serves as academic vice president of Lehrhaus Judaica as well as trustee of URJ Camp Newman. He sits on the California advisory committee to the United States Commission on Civil Rights, was named Volunteer of the Year by the SF Jewish Community Federation, and was awarded the San Francisco JCRC’s Courageous Leader award. Professor Dollinger helped actress Helen Hunt learn about her Jewish roots on the prime-time NBC show, “Who Do You Think You Are?”

---

Dr. Malcolm Drewery
mdrewery@coppin.edu

Dr. Malcolm Drewery is an Assistant Professor of Sociology at Coppin State University in Baltimore, Maryland. He is the former Chair of the Sociology Department at Wiley College in Marshall, Texas. He received his PhD. in Sociology with a specialization in Race, Gender, and Social Justice and Social Stratification from the American University in Washington. He earned a Master’s in Sociology from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He achieved a Master’s of Science in Family Studies from the University of Maryland at College Park, and he also did undergraduate work at the University of Maryland, majoring in Criminal Justice. Dr. Drewery is a member of the American Sociological Association and the Association of Black Sociologist. He is also a member and campus representative of Alpha Kappa Delta National Sociology Honor Society and Pi Gamma Mu, the International Honor Society in Social Science. He is a specialist in survey methodology and quantitative and qualitative data analysis.
Robert J. Fishman
Rfishman325@gmail.com
Robert Fishman served as the founding Executive Director of JFACT (Jewish Federation Association of Connecticut) for 23 years before retiring in 2016. Prior to JFACT, Fishman enjoyed a 21-year career in the Hartford Jewish community, starting out as Teen director and assistant Older Adult director at the JCC in 1974. He served as Hartford Jewish Federation Director for Jewish Community Relations for 20 years. Fishman’s experience is in lobbying for Israel and the Jewish community, advocacy for all immigrants and refugees, interfaith and inter-ethnic coalition building, fundraising, government relations and serving as the spokesperson on Jewish issues in the state of Connecticut. He is a recipient of the Government Affairs Jewish communal professional of the year award from the Jewish Federation national system. He is a long-time activist for Soviet Jewry, Israel and human rights. Fishman started the Voices of Hope program in Connecticut for children and grandchildren of Holocaust survivors. A graduate of the University of Maryland, Fishman holds a BA and MSW from the Maryland School of Social Work. He also earned an MA in Modern Jewish History from the Baltimore Hebrew University.

Dr. J. Goosby Smith
drjgoosbysmith@gmail.com
Dr. J. Goosby Smith serves in the following capacities at The Citadel, The Military College of South Carolina: Associate Professor of Management and Leadership; and Assistant Provost for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion. She is the Co-Director of the campus’s Truth, Racial Healing, and Transformation Center, which facilitates local CitListen and Healing Circle sessions to promote cross-Racial and interfaith connection through storytelling. She is an alumna of Spelman College and Case Western Reserve University. Dr. Smith’s research and consulting areas are workplace inclusion in military and higher education workspaces; interfaith unity; and building human resiliency. She has written numerous articles and is the co-author of Beyond Inclusion: Workplace Interconnectedness, Energy, and Resilience in Organizations. She is the editor of the soon to be published book Blessed Are Those Who Ask The Questions.

Professor Lynn H. Green
lynnhgreen@gmail.com
Lynn H. Green is a Professor of Sociology at Cheyney University of Pennsylvania, the US’s first historically black university. She acquired her Bachelor’s degree in U.S. History from Brown University and her doctorate in Sociology from the University of Pennsylvania. She has presented scholarly work on urban youth, public sector social equity issues, and the science of teaching and learning. Prior to her return to academe, she worked in the Philadelphia women’s public health sector as an educator, counselor, advocate, and executive director at various reproductive health service agencies. Green enjoys teaching an array of social stratification-related classes. However her “Intergroup and Ethnic Relations” course remains the intellectual center of her pedagogic endeavors. As a daughter and granddaughter of Jewish immigrants to the U.S. and the U.K., her passion for enhancing the quality of intergroup relations drives many of her scholarly interests. More recently she has begun to pursue sociological and historical literature of global antisemitism and Jewish/African American relations.
Dr. Marc Grimm
Marc.grimm@uni-bielefeld.de
Dr. Marc Grimm is a senior researcher at the Centre for Prevention and Intervention in Childhood and Adolescence at Bielefeld University in Germany. He studied political science and sociology in Augsburg, Germany, Vienna, and Vancouver, and previously worked as a Holocaust educator at the Max Mannheimer Study Center in Dachau. He was a scholarship fellow at the University of Geneva and an Erasmus fellow at the University of Haifa. Marc Grimm has published on aesthetics, German philosophy, right-wing radicalism, antisemitism, and Holocaust education. His most recent publications are a monograph about research on right-wing extremism in Germany, and the anthology "Antisemitismus im 21. Jahrhundert (Antisemitism in the 21st Century. The Virulence of an Old Hatred in the Era of Islamism and Terrorism," DeGruyter, 2018). He is currently developing and evaluating teaching materials for schools that challenge antisemitism.

Dr. Holly Hamby
hhamby@fisk.edu
Holly Hamby, Ph.D., is Associate Professor of English at Fisk University in Nashville, Tennessee, where she is coordinator of English and acting Chair of the Department of Arts and Languages. Her research focuses on early medieval literature and rhetoric, specifically Christian religious rhetoric and propaganda. Her most recent work is on the use of medieval religious and antisemitic propaganda in white supremacist digital spaces. Her proposed curricular work will focus on intersections between racist and antisemitic rhetoric, particularly in literary texts.

Abdelhamid Hassan Hakeem
Hameed4ah@hotmail.com
Abdelhamid Hassan Hakeem was an Administrative Manager at the Middle East Center for Strategic and Legal Studies (MESC) from 2008-2017. He represented MESC in diplomatic circles, supervised strategic studies, and represented MESC in visits to Israel and the Palestinian Authority in 2015 and 2016, with a focus on achieving peace with Israel. In addition, he supervised and coordinated meetings with Israeli officials in Europe and India. In 2014, he represented MESC in accepting an invitation from the Iranian Foreign Ministry to visit Iran. He earned a Bachelor of Business Administration, Faculty of Management and Economy at King Abdul Aziz University in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, in 1995.

Dr. Katherine Harbord
K.A.Harbord@ljmu.ac.uk
Katherine is a senior lecturer in politics at Liverpool John Moores University, where she teaches in the Criminology and History programs, in the areas of human rights, global citizenship, and the history of the Middle East. She provides Country of Origin Information for the cases of Palestinian asylum seekers to the European Union, and the majority of her current research is policy related. Harbord is a seasoned election observer, is passionate about democracy, and has been an ally in the protest against antisemitism in the British academy since 2002.
Dr. Kathrin Haurand
khaurand@clarku.edu

Kathrin Haurand is a PhD candidate at the Strassler Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies at Clark University in Massachusetts, and hold a MA in Cultural Studies and History from Viadrina European University in Frankfurt, Germany. She has been developing educational projects on the history of the Holocaust and antisemitism at the Free University in Berlin, and most recently, as a project manager at the Jewish Forum for Democracy and Against Antisemitism as part of an education initiative financed by the German Federal Agency for Civic Education and the State of Berlin. Haurand has previously taught different classes on the history of genocides, the Holocaust, and the Middle East at Clark University, as well as classes on the history of the Holocaust, racism and antisemitism at German high schools. She is an active member of the interfaith dialogue project Dialogue Perspectives of the Ernst Ludwig Ehrlich Foundation. Her current research investigates the experience of Jewish refugees in the Middle and Near East during World War II. In her dissertation project she is focusing on Tehran as a place of refuge. She held a Claims Conference fellowship, a Fondation pour la Mémoire de la Shoah fellowship and a Maccabim Fellowship, and is a fellow of the Ernst Ludwig Ehrlich Scholarship Fund.

Dr. Martha L. Hare
MTaibe@verizon.net

Martha Hare is in the process of transitioning her career and scholarly focus. She has completed a decades-long career in public health research, evaluation and research administration, either directly within the U.S. federal government’s National Institutes of Health (NIH) or in the not-for profit or local sectors. This career built upon her PhD in Anthropology from the New School for Social Research Graduate Faculty in Political and Social Science, as well as prior clinical training and experience (BS in Nursing). After a decade of professional nursing, she led, administered or participated in projects concerned with HIV prevention, access to cancer treatment and prevention/screening, health disparities, and public health and community-engaged research more broadly. As part of her duties, Hare facilitated peer review of scientific proposals, enforcing agency ethical regulations within this context. At the same time, she has both formal and informal training in Jewish Studies and interfaith studies. In 2016, she began studies with the Graduate Theological Foundation (GTF) based in Mishawaka, Indiana, toward a Doctor of Ministry degree in Jewish Spirituality. Her broad goal is to gain knowledge and skills to contribute as an anthropologist and as a religious professional to the development of scholarship and programming that address cutting edge issues in Judaism and interfaith relations. Her focus is on the related constructs of inter-generational and historical trauma, which she believes are closely related to perceptions of and responses to antisemitism. Her volunteer and community work has included the need to address antisemitism as a necessary part of broadening progressive coalition building.
Dr. Paul Hedges
jsonpmhedges@ntu.edu.sg

Paul Hedges is an Associate Professor in Inter-religious Studies at the Studies in Inter-religious Relations in Plural Societies Program, RSIS, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore. He researches, teaches, and publishes widely in such areas as Inter-religious Studies, theory and methods in the study of religion, contemporary global religious ideologies, and inter-religious hermeneutics. He has engaged in work beyond academia with the media, NGOs, faith groups, and governments. He has published twelve books and over sixty papers. His recent books include Comparative Theology: Critical and Methodological Perspectives (Brill, 2017), Towards Better Disagreement: Religion and Atheism in Dialogue (Jessica Kingsley, 2017), and Contemporary Muslim-Christian Encounters (Bloomsbury, 2015). He is currently working on a book exploring method and theory in the study of religion, provisionally titled “Understanding Religion: Method and Theory for Exploring Religiously Diverse Societies” (California University Press, due 2020). He is co-editor of Inter-religious Studies and Intercultural Theology, and sits on the editorial board of a number of other international journals and book series.

Dr. Serhiy Hirik
Conservator.1985@gmail.com

Serhiy Hirik is a senior researcher at the State Research Institution “Encyclopedia Press” and a senior lecturer at the Master of Arts program in Jewish studies at the National University of Kyiv-Mohyla Academy (Kyiv, Ukraine). He teaches courses in the history of Ukrainian Jews and the history of antisemitism and the Holocaust. Serhiy Hirik works on topics concerned with the political history of Ukrainian Jews, especially on the fate of Jewish leftist political parties in Ukraine during the period immediately following the Great War. Hirik also researches the politics of memory in post-Soviet states as well as the features of the contemporary antisemitic propaganda in Ukraine. He is a secretary of the Ukrainian Association for Jewish Studies.

Barbara Harmon-Schamberger
bschamberger1962@gmail.com

A cum laude graduate of West Virginia University, Barbara attended WVU from 1981 to 1985 graduating with double bachelor's degrees in English and History and Political Science and International Relations. A Rhodes Scholar, Barbara attended St. Catherine's College, Oxford from 1985 to 1988. Thereafter she obtained her law degree from the University of Virginia in 1991. Working in the D.C. office of Milbank Tweed Hadley and McCloy, she worked directly for the Hon. Elliott L. Richardson, former United States Attorney General and Ambassador to the Court of St. James, particularly on the United Nations Law of the Sea Treaty on behalf of the United States. Barbara left Milbank to become West Virginia's Secretary of Education and the Arts under Governor Gaston Caperton. Caperton was later President of the College Board. Subsequently, Barbara was general counsel to the Chairman of the West Virginia House of Delegates Education Committee. Barbara has held various political appointments before becoming assistant prosecuting attorney for Clay County, West Virginia where she continues to reside today with her significant other of 20 years and two hounds, one of determinate but irrelevant parentage who serves formally as an 85-pound lap dog and one of indeterminate parentage who serves as a child/dictator. Barbara infrequently attends: B’Nai Jacob Synagogue where she has the best rabbi in the world, Victor Urecki; Jubilee Mountain Church, a marvelous Appalachian Pentecostal store front church (no snakes); and St. John or St. George Eastern Orthodox Christian Churches in Charleston, WV. Barbara is not confused or heretical, she is ecumenical.
David A. Hoffman
dhoffman@blc.law
David A. Hoffman is the John H. Watson, Jr. Lecturer on Law at Harvard Law School, where he teaches three courses: Mediation; Legal Profession: Collaborative Law; and Diversity and Dispute Resolution. David is also an attorney, mediator, arbitrator, and founding member of Boston Law Collaborative, LLC, where he handles cases involving family, business, employment, and other disputes. Prior to founding Boston Law Collaborative in 2003, David was a litigation partner at the Boston firm Hill & Barlow, where he practiced for 17 years. He is past-chair of the American Bar Association Section of Dispute Resolution and a Distinguished Fellow of the International Academy of Mediators. David has won a number of awards for his work in the field of dispute resolution (see www.BLC.law). David has also published three books (including “Bringing Peace into the Room,” with co-editor Daniel Bowling) and more than 80 articles on law and dispute resolution. David is a graduate of Princeton University (A.B. 1970, summa cum laude), Cornell University (M.A. 1974, American Studies), and Harvard Law School (J.D. 1984, magna cum laude), where he was an editor of the Harvard Law Review and research assistant for Prof. Larry Tribe. After his law school graduation, David clerked for then-Judge Stephen Breyer of the U.S. Court of Appeals. David’s TEDx talk about “Lawyers as Peacemakers” can be found here: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JKXv1_Sqe_4. David lives in a cohousing community in Acton, Massachusetts (www.newview.org) with his wife, Leslie Warner, who is a career coach. He has three adult children and an adolescent cat.

Milan Hrabovský
Milan.t.hrabovsky@gmail.com
Milan Hrabovský is a lecturer at Comenius University in Bratislava, Slovakia, focusing on racism and Holocaust studies. His most recent book is Race: Racial classification of men (2018), which has been nominated for the Slovak Literary Fund Prize. He also serves as an expert at the Ministry of Labour, Social Affairs and Family of the Slovak Republic, where he is responsible for preparing and implementing state policies in the area of migration and integration of foreigners. Hrabovský studied philosophy at Comenius University. His PhD dissertation focused on “racial mythology.”

Lisa Johanne Jacobs
lisajohannejacobs@gmail.com
Lisa Johanne Jacobs has been working on a long-term study of “Antisemitism 2.0 and the Cyberculture of Hate” since 2017. She is currently working on a PhD thesis on German responses to antisemitism. She studied philosophy, theology, German language and literature. She is also involved in feminist groups and is very interested in feminist theories. She wrote a Master’s thesis in German literature about concept albums in pop music.
Isaiah Jones
Ijj3@georgetown.edu
Isaiah Jones is a Juris Doctor candidate at Georgetown Law School in Washington. He is a student-member of the D.C. Bar and the Black Law Students Association. Jones served as a research assistant to the dean of the Georgetown Juvenile Justice Clinic, providing supporting memos for an upcoming manuscript focusing on the usurpation of African American adolescents’ right to remain children under the law. Jones interned with an associate judge at the D.C. Superior Court, and is currently interning with the chief judge of the D.C. Court of Appeals. He intends to practice transactional law generally, and specifically project finance. Jones further aspires to become a professor of law and a mediator. He obtained his Bachelor’s degree in English Education from Claflin University, and taught for a number of years at the secondary level. His passion for building relationships and serving others drives him to use academia and the law as tools to rout out hatred and bigotry.

Professor Ari Kohen
Akohen2@unl.edu
Dr. Daniel Krošlák
Daniel.kroslak@gmail.com
Daniel Krošlák is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, Paneuropean University, in Bratislava, Slovakia. He also works as head of the legal department at the Slovak Environmental Inspectorate. He studied at Comenius University in Bratislava (JD, MA in philosophy, PhD in law) and at the Ludwig-Maximilian-University in Germany (LL.M.) Dr. Krošlák is the co-author of several books in Slovak: Ústavné právo (Constitutional Law), Texty z dejín právnej filozofie (Reader in Philosophy of Law), Medicínske právo (Medical Law), Základy teórie štátu a práva (Introduction to Theory of State and Law), Hodnotový systém práva a náboženstva v medzikultúrnej perspective (Value System of Law and Religion in Intercultural Perspective; editor); and Rozhodovacia činnosť súdov a náboženstvo (Case Law of Courts and Religion; editor). He has also published a significant number of articles in the fields of legal and political theory, international criminal law, and philosophy of law.

Eran Kurz
Eran.kurz@gmail.com
Eran Kurz is a Masters student in Israel Studies, specializing in Antisemitism and the Delegitimization of Israel, at the University of Haifa. He is a news editor and narrator for Galatz and Galaglatz in Israel. For the station he writes, edits and broadcasts the hourly newscast. Form 2009 through 2015 he was a manager at Satlink Communications, an international television broadcasting company. He is a founder of the “Voice of the Red Sea” radio station in Eilat. Eran received his Bachelors in Interdisciplinary Studies from the University of Haifa in 2016.
Professor Richard Landes
rl.secondddraft@gmail.com
Richard Landes was trained as a medievalist at Princeton University (MA 1979, PhD 1984). His work focused on apocalyptic beliefs and millennial movements (Heaven on Earth, 2011), initially around the year 1000 (Peace of God, 1986; Relics, Apocalypse and the Deceits of History, 1996; Apocalyptic Year 1000, 2003). He developed the concept of “demotic religiosity,” an orientation that prizes 1) equality before the law, 2) dignity of manual labor, 3) access to sacred texts for all believers, and 4) moral integrity over social honor.
But he increasingly focused on contemporary movements (Paranoid Apocalypse, 2006), especially Global Jihad, and the feckless response to its challenge, starting with the coverage of the “Al Aqsa Intifada” in late 2000. He made a series of documentaries in 2005/6 titled “According to Palestinian Sources…,” which document the extensive staging of footage (Pallywood), the staging of the Al Durah footage (Making of an Icon), and the impact of that fake, broadcast as “news” by Western news media (Icon of Hatred).
In 2015, he retired from Boston University where he was a Professor in the History Department. He lives with his wife in Jerusalem, where he can write free of politically correct pressures.
His blog “The Augean Stables” (2005-present) deals largely with the ways in which Western news media fuel Jihad, especially in their coverage of the Middle East conflict. He is currently completing a book titled They’re so Smart cause We’re so Stupid: A Medievalist’s Guide to the 21st Century. When he completes this book, he plans to return to his medieval work (While God Tarried: Disappointed Millennialism from Jesus to the Peace of God, 33-1033), and eventually work on his commentary on the Demotic Bible, an analysis of the ways the biblical text promotes demotic religiosity, and the way that a secularization of that religiosity contributed to the emergence of the modern world.

Hussein Aboubakr Mansour
Hussein.aboubakr@gmail.com
Hussein Aboubakr Mansour is a public speaker and a commentator on the issue of antisemitism in the Arab world. For six years, Mansour served as an Assistant Professor of Hebrew and Israel studies at the Defense Language Institute in Monterey California.
Mansour was born in Cairo in 1989 to a Muslim family. Growing up, he was obsessed by popular stories about Jews and Israelis as demons and super villains. He was convinced the antisemitic rhetoric he grew up in was true to the nature of reality of the world. As he embarked on a journey of self-education he started to question that reality he grew up in and started to notice the rise of radical Islamism around him.
Mansour studied Hebrew at Menoufia University in the Nile Delta but did not adapt to the curriculum, which reflected the official anti-Israel and antisemitic rhetoric of the Egyptian institutions. He was persecuted by the Egyptian National Police for being the first visitor to check out books and watch films at the Israeli Academic Center in Cairo. He was placed under surveillance, harassed, jailed and tortured for his studies of Israel.
After Mansour shared his newly formed opinions online, his family disowned him, and he became a frequent guest of government interrogation facilities. In the fall of 2010, he was arrested, interrogated and tortured by the Egyptian military. When the Egyptian Revolution swept in 2011, Mansour became an organizer in Tahrir Square. By 2012 the secret police of the Muslim Brotherhood regime again began harassing and persecuting Mansour, so he had to hide in a Christian orphanage and a Coptic monastery. He later left Egypt and received asylum in the United States in 2014.
Carlota Matesanz Sanchioli
Car21mat@hotmail.com
Carlota Matesanz Sanchioli is a PhD candidate at Complutense University of Madrid (UCM) in Spain. Her thesis focuses on the narrative about antisemitism developed by the Anti-Defamation League from 1945 to 2000. She received a BA in History and an MA in Contemporary History, both from Complutense University. Between 2011 and 2012, she studied at the University of Sussex as part of the Erasmus Exchange Program, and in 2016, she received a Diploma in Conflict Prevention and Peace Making. In 2017 she was granted a doctoral scholarship to conduct research at Tel Aviv University and became a Fellow at the Stephen Roth Institute for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism and Racism. In July 2018, she participated in the Summer Institute on the Holocaust and Jewish Civilization at Royal Holloway College, University of London. Last year, she received a research grant from the American Jewish Archives in Cincinnati and became a Fellow at the Jacob Rader Marcus Center. Later on she enjoyed a research stay at the Anti-Defamation League in New York.

Dr. Yumei Mo
Moyumei0802@163.com
Dr. Yumei Mo teaches at Qingdao University of Technology as a full-time literature and culture professor. Present courses offered include “Jewish Literature and Culture” and “Biblical Study,” with both courses focusing on antisemitism as a key topic.
Dr. Mo has been doing research in Medieval Jewish history since 2006 and teaching Jewish literature and culture since 2010. She developed a great interest in antisemitism and the Holocaust while working on her PhD. Her dissertation was published as a Jewish research monograph in 2016, and it included a chapter on antisemitism in medieval England. In 2014, she attended a seminar at Yad Vashem for Chinese educators, and in 2016 she spent half a year as a Visiting Scholar at the University of Birmingham. Since 2010, she has taken part in a project translating The New Cambridge Medieval History and was in charge of Volume V.
Dr. Mary Catherine Mueller
mcmueller@mail.smu.edu

Mary Catherine Mueller is a full-time lecturer in English at the Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences at Southern Methodist University (SMU) in Dallas, Texas. She teaches Holocaust Literature and other courses in the Discernment and Discourse Program. Before joining SMU, she taught Rhetoric at the University of Texas at Dallas, where she also obtained her Doctorate in Humanities – Studies of Literature, with a focus on Holocaust Studies. Her research and writings focus on the Representations of the Holocaust in Pop-Culture, Art, and Memory; Antisemitism; Holocaust Literature; Literature as Testimony; 18th-20th Century European Literature; and Transcontinental Cultural Studies of America and Europe.

Whether through publishing or presenting her research, Mary Catherine Mueller has shared her work about the Holocaust with scholars, educators, and human rights advocates throughout the world. From writing about Holocaust Diaries (Shofar: An Interdisciplinary Journal), Holocaust memoirs (The Search for Understanding: Elie Wiesel's Literary Works; SUNY Press), Children’s poetry during the Holocaust (Atrocity in Children’s Literature; SUNY Press), to her forthcoming book, The Holocaust Short Story (Routledge Press), Mueller continues to contribute to the field by addressing a crucial area of Holocaust Studies: Holocaust Literature. Through her teaching, she hopes to introduce students to authors who may become their teachers, to ideas that may broaden their perspectives, and to discussions that may challenge their long-held presuppositions or help them solidify what it is that they believe.

Dr. Meir Muller
meir@mailbox.sc.edu

Dr. Meir Muller is in his 27th year as head of the Cutler Jewish Day School in Columbia, South Carolina. He is an ordained rabbi and has a doctorate in the area of early childhood education. He serves as an assistant professor in the College of Education at the University of South Carolina. His research interests include cultural relevant pedagogy, anti-racist pedagogy, constructivist theory, and Jewish early childhood education. His course work is focused on issues of race and education. Dr. Muller has recently been awarded the Early Childhood Teacher Educator Award by the National Association for Early Childhood Teacher Education and the Mungo Award in Teaching by the University of South Carolina. Dr. Muller has served as lead author of South Carolina’s early learning state standards and is part of a team of educators developing curricula that prepare European teachers to address bias, prejudice, and antisemitism.
Professor Philliph Masila Mutisya
pmmutisya@nccu.edu
Philliph Masila Mutisya has taught at North Carolina Central University since 2001, and, since 2012, he has served as an Adjunct Professor in the Department of Leadership Studies and Adult Education at North Carolina Agriculture and Technology State University. He is a Professor of Education. He received his doctorate of education in 1989 in Instructional Leadership, with a Concentration in Curriculum Development in Multicultural and Bilingual Education, from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. He also has a M.Ed. (1985) in International Education with a concentration in Training and Development in Non-formal Education, also from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. For over 30 years in academia he has specialized in Educational Leadership with focus in Instructional Training and Development, Curriculum Development, and Program Development – Policy and Planning in Education, Assessment and Evaluation.

Professor Luiz Nazario
Luiz.nazario@terra.com.br
Dr. Luiz Nazario is a historian, critic and writer. His Doctoral thesis, Imaginaries of Destruction: The Role of the Movies in the Preparation of the Holocaust (1994), presented after two years of research in German archives, was one of the first studies on this theme in Brazil. A full Professor at the School of Fine Arts at the Federal University of Minas Gerais, Nazario has published 74 books and chapters of books. Among his book are From the Nature of the Monsters (1998); The Moving Shadows (1999); Autos-da-fé as Mass Spectacles (2005); All the Bodies of Pasolini (2007); and The Wandering Cinema (2013). Nazario contributed to Cinema and the Swastika: The International Expansion of Third Reich Cinema (2007), by Roel Vande Winkel and David Welch, winner of the 2007 Willy Haas Award for Outstanding Publication on German Cinema at Cinefest 2007 in Hamburg; and to The Global Impact of the Protocols of the Elders of Zion: A Century-Old Myth (2012), by Esther Webman. Since 1996, Luiz Nazario has been responsible for collecting data on antisemitic events in Brazil for publication in Tel Aviv University’s Antisemitism Worldwide Annual Report.

Dr. David Nussbaum
Dr.david.nussbaum@gmail.com
David Nussbaum is a registered psychologist in Ontario. He has served as Staff Psychologist, then Senior Psychologist, at the Metropolitan Toronto Forensic Service (METFORS), Clarke Institute of Psychiatry, as well as a Research Psychologist at the Forensic Program at the Whitby Mental Health Centre. Between 1984 and 2004, Dr. Nussbaum taught 28 different undergraduate Psychology course titles at York University. He has also served as Assistant Professor at the Department of Psychology Scarborough (UTSC). Dr. Nussbaum has published 40 peer reviewed articles and book chapters. An Elected Fellow of both the Canadian and American Psychological Associations, he was awarded the International Achievement Award of Division 55 (American Society for the Advancement of Psychopharmacology) as well as Professor of the Year, Psychology, UTSC. He received his PhD in Biological Psychology at the University of Waterloo, 1983.
Olusegun Olanipekun
ceo@icld.co.za
Olusegun Olanipekun is the founder and CEO of the Institute for Christian Leadership Development South Africa and the convener of the Africa Leadership Summit, a biennial gathering hosted in Jerusalem since 2013, as well as the International President of the Africa-Israel Chamber of Commerce and President of The Abrahamic Foundation. He is pioneering the establishment of the Africa Agency, an organization partnering with the Jewish Agency toward community development in Africa.
Pastor Segun holds an LLB degree as well as a Bachelor of Education degree in English/History. He is presently studying toward a Master’s degree in Constitutional Law (LLM) at the Department of Public Law, University of Pretoria. He organizes conferences and seminars around local and global contemporary issues. He also develops and presents Bible-based specialized leadership training materials for different sectors across Africa.

Dr. Lily Owusu-Darkwa
Lowusu-darkwa@berkeley.edu
Lily obtained her doctoral degree in Medical Anthropology from the Joint Program in Medical Anthropology at the University of California at Berkeley and at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF). She also undertook postdoctoral studies at UCSF School of Anthropology, History, and Social Medicine. Lily read Experimental Psychology for her BA degree and holds the Oxford Oxon MA degree.
Lily is an anthropologist, a psychologist, an ethnographer, a policy analyst and a prolific fieldworker whose fieldwork is multi-sited and multi-local. She taught in various US universities and has been involved in ethnographic/policy projects, commissioned by multilateral and bilateral organizations, such as WHO, The African Union, and African governments. Her interests focuses on the anthropology of violence, suffering and premature death from radical existentialism and politically engaged perspective. Specifically, her research is on Violence and Social Suffering, Suicide, Exile and Nostalgia, Drug Addiction and Mental Health; Disease, Inequality and Poverty. She is also interested in exploring social pathologies associated with postcoloniality, displacement and trauma, and exile, as well as inquiring how global medicine produces new forms of therapeutic encounters, affecting the etiology, experience and course of disease. Her work tries to understand the mark of history on the present so many years ago, even centuries in the experience of people today, and the ghostliness of postcolonial history, where she has consistently applied her ethnographic craft to understand and provide insights, a new reading into the limits of the human, peace and health, human security, emerging epidemics and disease outbreak and humanitarian medicine, and in various countries in Africa, most recently in East and West Africa. Her ethnographic encounters have taken her to complex emergencies in Africa, working on disease outbreak-EBOLA, HIV, TB, Polio, including social pathologies (mental illness, drug addiction, suicide and exile) to armed conflicts in the Horn of Africa.
Dr. Deirdre Ragan
dragan@citadel.edu
Deirdre Ragan joined The Citadel, the Military College of South Carolina, in 2014 and currently serves as Director of the Honors Program and faculty in the Mechanical Engineering Department. She teaches upper-level undergraduate and graduate Materials courses in the department as well as Honors classes at all levels. Deirdre particularly enjoys not only mentoring every Honors Program student on their personal and professional development but also teaching unique, special topics Honors classes designed to challenge students’ critical thinking skills, their perception of themselves and others, and their ability to relate to others.

Dr. Devin L. Randolph
devinlamontrandolph@gmail.com
Devin Lamont Randolph serves as a faculty member at the University of South Carolina-Columbia, where he teaches in the College of Education. His previous appointment was as the Assistant Vice President for Student Development and Services/Director of Residential Life at Claflin University. In this role, he was responsible for overseeing campus-wide student life programming and residential life; and managing student clubs and organizations, Greek Life, and the Office of Student Activities. Prior to his time at Claflin, Devin worked with the Center for Community Alternatives in Syracuse, New York as a researcher and Justice Strategies Intern, focusing on reintegrative justice strategies and reducing reliance on incarceration through advocacy, services, and public policy development in pursuit of civil and human rights. He was a Fellow at the Cornell Institute of Public Affairs, at Cornell University where he obtained a Master’s in Public Administration with a concentration in Social Policy and Education, and received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Management from Claflin University. He is a current doctoral student in the Cultural Foundations of Education program at the University of South Carolina-Columbia. He studies the experiences of targeted youth and the k-20 educational settings they navigate, contexts of education, systemic inequities, and qualitative methodologies. His research includes work with incarcerated youth and adults, pre- and post-release.
Dr. Dominika Rank
Dominika.rank@gmail.com
Dominika Rank has been working on a project since 2017 developing an online video course for distance learners titled “Introduction to the History of Jews in Eastern Europe,” at the Ukrainian Catholic University, Lviv, Ukraine (supported by the Rothschild Foundation’s Yad Hanadiv arm). She obtained a PhD in History from Jagiellonian University’s Institute of Jewish Studies (Krakow, Poland), subsequently enrolling in a PhD program at the Ukrainian Catholic University in 2017. Her PhD thesis was titled “The Formation of Modern Identities among Jewish Intellectuals from Brody in the 19th Century.” Her spheres of professional interests include the stigmatization of Jewish identity and the articulation of identity stigma in oeuvres of Jewish intellectuals. Previously, she was an expert in the project “Minority Policy and Minority Rights in Moldova, Ukraine and Georgia” at the Moldova-Institute, Leipzig, Germany, as well as an expert in the project “Turning Words into Action to Address Antisemitism,” implemented by OSCE/ODIHR in the Republic of Moldova.

Professor O. Ralph Raymond
orray@depauw.edu
Dr. O. Ralph Raymond is Professor Emeritus and Director Emeritus of Russian Studies at DePauw University in Indiana. He holds three Harvard degrees - a Doctorate in political science, a Master’s in Russian area studies, and an AB in Government. As a Rhodes Scholar at The Queen’s College, Oxford, Dr. Raymond read both PPE and Slavonic Studies. He has served on the faculties of Harvard, Brandeis, and DePauw universities in the United States. His teaching and research interests have focused on political philosophy, comparative European governments, Soviet, Russian, Central and East European Affairs and Modern European History. He has travelled extensively with American university groups in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union and has acted as resident director of American collegiate programs in Vienna, Budapest, and Zagreb.
Professor Daniel M. Roberts
droberts@vsu.edu
Professor Daniel M. Roberts, Executive Director, Honors Program and Special Initiatives, Virginia State University. He holds a bachelor’s degree in Political Science from Indiana University of Pennsylvania, master’s degrees in public policy and political science from Carnegie Mellon University and the Pennsylvania State University respectively, and a doctorate in educational leadership from the Virginia Commonwealth University.

His professional experience over the past 15 years has principally involved high-achieving students and international education. At VSU, under Roberts’ leadership, the Honors Program has experienced a 45% growth in membership, and even greater growth in scholarship support and programming for students. He currently serves as the President of the Virginias Collegiate Honors Council (VCHC) (2015-2017), and is a recognized national program reviewer for the National Collegiate Honors Council (NCHC) (2017-2019). Prior to his arrival to VSU, Roberts served as the director of the European Office of the Institute of International Education. There he was responsible for scholarship administration, program management and development, study abroad programming, and international student recruitment.

Roberts is the recipient of a Fulbright Fellowship and remains a lifetime member of the Fulbright Alumni Association. He has led groups of students and faculty members to countries on five continents and has traveled or lived in nearly 50 countries. His subsequent academic research in democratization and post-communist transitions followed from his undergraduate year abroad, first as an intern in South Africa working for the anti-apartheid organization Get Ahead, and then as an exchange student in Hungary.

Dr. Ron Schleifer
rons@ariel.ac.il
Dr. Ron Schleifer is head of the Ariel Research Center for Defense and Communication. He has a PhD in Communication from the University of Leeds, UK, and specializes in propaganda in political and social contexts. His recent book, Psychological Warfare in the Arab-Israeli Conflict, was published by Palgrave Macmillan in 2016.

Dr. Myriam Silvera
Myr.silvera@gmail.com
Myriam Silvera teaches the history and culture of the Jews in the modern age at the University of Rome Tor Vergata. For many years she taught the history of Jewish philosophy at University Federico II in Naples, and History of Judaism at La Sapienza in Rome. She is also coordinator of two university programs for the Union of Italian Jewish Communities: a BA in Jewish Studies, and a Specialization Course in Jewish Culture and Communication. She sits on the Directoral Board of the periodical “La Rassegna Mensile di Israel.” Her main interest is in 17th-century religious history, including Marrano history and intellectual relation between Jews and Huguenots. She was visiting professor and researcher at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, the Oxford Centre for Jewish Studies, and the École des Hautes Études in Paris. From 1979 to 1984 she was press agent for the Council of Italian Jewish Communities.
Dr. Saba Soomekh
ssoomekh@yahoo.com
Dr. Saba Soomekh is the Assistant Director of Interreligious and Intercommunity Affairs at AJC-LA and a lecturer at UCLA, where she teaches Religious Studies, Middle Eastern History, and Women’s Studies. She received her BA in Religious Studies from UC Berkeley, her Master’s in Theological Studies from Harvard Divinity School and her PhD in Religious Studies from UC, Santa Barbara. Dr. Soomekh teaches and writes extensively on World Religions, Women and Religion, intersectionality and its impact on the Jewish community, and the geopolitics of the Middle East. Professor Soomekh is the editor of the book Sephardi and Mizrahi Jews in America (Purdue University Press, 2016) and the author of the book From the Shahs to Los Angeles: Three Generations of Iranian Jewish Women between Religion and Culture (SUNY Press, 2012). Her book was awarded the Gold Medal in the 2013 Independent Publisher Book Award in the Religion category. Dr. Soomekh was the Exhibition Coordinator of the exhibition at the Fowler Museum at UCLA titled “Light and Shadows: The Story of Iranian Jews.” She was a consultant and participant for PBS’ documentary “Iranian Americans,” She was also featured in an NPR story on Iranian Jews in America, and The Times of Israel wrote a piece on her titled “Iranian Scholar Breaks Stereotypes While Studying Them.”

Professor Stephen Jay Stern
sstern@gettysburg.edu
Professor Stephen Jay Stern received his PhD in philosophy in March of 2001 with a focus on Jewish dialogic philosophy. Presently, he is an Associate Professor of Judaic Studies at Gettysburg College. He is the author of the Unbinding of Isaac and lately, has been focused on Anti-Judaism in Western intellectual and social Traditions.

Dr. Marshall F. Stevenson, Jr.
mfstevensonjr@umes.edu
Marshall F. Stevenson, Jr., is Dean of the School of Education, Social Sciences and the Arts at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore and Professor of history. He was formerly the Dean of the College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and Professor of history at Delaware State University (2009-2018). He received his BA in History from the University of Cincinnati and earned his Master’s and Doctoral degrees in History from the University of Michigan. He has held several pre-and post-doctoral fellowships: Kaiser Foundation Fellow at the Walter P. Reuther Library of Labor and Urban Affairs at Wayne State University, Lowenstein Fellow from the American Jewish Archives at Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio, and a Fellow at the Carter G. Woodson Institute for African American and African Studies at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville. Stevenson began his formal teaching career at The Ohio State University and then moved on to both teaching and administration at Dillard University in New Orleans, Louisiana (1997-2009). He has researched and published articles and book chapters on Black-Jewish relations in the United States and was the Director of Dillard University’s National Center for Black-Jewish Relations 1999-2003. His most recent publication, “The Global Dimensions of Ideological Conflict: An Assessment for the First Quarter of the 21st Century,” appears as a chapter in Global Societies: An Introduction, eds. Akwasi Osei & F. Odun Balogun, (Pearson Education, 2018).
Dr. Rotimi T. Suberu
rsuberu@bennington.edu
Dr. Rotimi T. Suberu has been a faculty member in politics and international relations at Bennington College, Vermont, since 2008. Previously, he taught political science at the University of Ibadan, Nigeria, where he obtained his PhD in 1990. His main research interests are Nigerian government and politics, the management of ethnic and religious conflicts, and federalism and democratization. Suberu's publications include Federalism and Ethnic in Conflict in Nigeria (Washington, DC: United States Institute of Peace Press, 2001), numerous book chapters, and several articles in journals such as Daedalus: Journal of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Publius: Journal of Federalism, African Affairs, Journal of Modern African Studies, Current History, Journal of Democracy, Commonwealth and Comparative Politics, Ethnopolitics, Journal of International Development, and the Oxford Handbook of Nigerian Politics. Suberu has served as a consultant to the Nigerian government, the World Bank, the National Endowment for Democracy, Freedom House, and the Forum of Federations. He has won fellowships and visiting positions from University of Oxford, the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, the University of Pennsylvania, Northwestern University, New Delhi's Center for the Study of Developing Societies, and the United States Institute of Peace. He currently serves on the editorial advisory boards of Publius: Journal of Federalism, Regional and Federal Studies, and Federal Governance.

Shannon Travis
Shannon@higerglyphs.com
Shannon Travis is the Founder and CEO of Higher Glyphs Content Group, a Washington-based firm specializing in Marketing, Strategic Communications, Brand Messaging, Media Management, Content Creation and Website/Graphic Design. In 2018, Travis was named one of the Top Entrepreneurs to watch in the U.S. by Entrepreneur Magazine. Travis was previously a CNN National Reporter. He won an Emmy for his coverage of the 2012 presidential election and reported on breaking and political news emerging from the White House, Congress, the Supreme Court and other federal institutions. Travis has been an invited speaker at Harvard University, Georgetown Law and Missouri Southern State University and is currently pursuing a Master of Arts in International Relations at Harvard University. He previously earned a Master of Arts in Journalism from Columbia University and completed his undergraduate studies in Political Science at New York University.
Rev. Dr. James B. Vigen
chezvigen@yahoo.com
Dr. Vigen teaches at Claflin University, an HBCU institution in South Carolina. He served as a Pastor for 41 years. He has served in upstate New York; Stavanger, Norway; North Carolina, Washington, D.C.; Maryland; and now South Carolina. He graduated from Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, in 1973 with a degree in History. He went to Seminary in Columbus, Ohio, graduating in 1977. During his internship year he served an ecumenical, English-speaking congregation in Oslo, Norway. In his last year at Seminary he volunteered for service abroad and was eventually called to serve the Malagasy Lutheran Church on the island of Madagascar. Prior to going overseas he earned a Master of Sacred Theology at Yale. He received a PhD in 1991. He served in Madagascar for 18 years, returning to the U.S. in 1996 where he established a “Bush” Seminary, taught at the National Seminary and was awarded the highest civilian honor given by the government for service to the nation.

Dr. Eli Vinokur
eliv@edu.haifa.ac.il
Dr. Eli Vinokur heads the practical part of the program for coping with Israel’s delegitimization and new antisemitism at the Israel School of Tourism, University of Haifa. Eli has played a major role in initiating the antisemitism MA class that opened this year at the Department of Israel Studies, where he is a lecturer. Vinokur is also the department head of informal education at the Gordon College of Education, where he devotes his time to the research and development of new methods to facilitate meaningful educational and counter-educational processes. This research stems from his conviction that antisemitism and anti-Zionism are primarily educational challenges. Vinokur’s work focuses on the educational and intellectual aspects of new antisemitism, attempting to understand the phenomenon from its grassroots motives, and to consider various educational strategies for coping with antisemitism(s), focusing on antisemitism that comes from intellectuals. During the 2016-2017 academic year, Vinokur was a visiting scholar at Teachers College, Columbia University, and at the Oxford Centre for Jewish Studies, as part of his postdoctoral studies, funded by a postdoctoral grant from the ISEF foundation. Vinokur received his BA at the Ofakim Honors Program, University of Haifa, and his MA in Jewish Philosophy from Tel Aviv University. He earned his PhD in Education from the University of Haifa. Before embarking on his PhD studies, Vinokur was a secondary school teacher of Jewish culture and thought.
Dr. Dominika Zakrzewska-Olędzka
Zakrzewska.dominika@wp.pl
Dominika Zakrzewska-Olędzka, PhD, is a lecturer and researcher at the Department of Developmental and Educational Psychology at The Maria Grzegorzewska University in Warsaw, Poland. Her research focuses on the search for correlates of prejudices and stereotypes and ways of preventing them. Other research areas of interest are social and individual factors influencing the shaping of attitudes toward “Others” and “Otherness.” She is an author and co-author of several academic articles, chapters, and presentations at international and local conferences focused on intercultural and inter-religious dialogue, Polish-Jewish and Polish-Israeli relations, prejudices and stereotypes toward “Others,” as well as marginalization and discrimination in education and Janusz Korczak educational methods. Other professional work of hers include organizing and facilitating international and intercultural programs in cooperation with nongovernmental organizations, dedicated to teachers and students of education faculties, whose aim is to promote Polish-Israeli and Polish-Jewish dialogue.

Professor Valarie H. Ziegler
vziegler@depauw.edu
Valarie Ziegler has taught in the Religious Studies Department at DePauw University in Chicago since 1995. She received her BA from Centre College in Kentucky, her M.Div from Yale University, and her PhD from Emory University. Her books include The Advocates of Peace in Antebellum America (1992); Eve and Adam: Jewish, Christian, and Muslim Readings in Genesis and Gender (1999, with Kristin E Kvam and Linda Schearing); Diva Judlia: The Public Romance and Private Agony of Julia Ward Howe (2003); and Enticed by Eden: How Western Culture Uses, Confuses, and (Sometimes Abuses) Adam and Eve (2013, with Linda Schearing). She was a co-founder of the Society of Biblical Literature’s section on the Bible and Popular Culture and is particularly interested in the ways that Genesis 1-3 has been used to promote and to combat antisemitism, sexism and racism.
Rivka Baum

Rivka Baum is a Master’s student from the Netherlands. After receiving her BA in History from Leiden University in 2017, she moved to Israel to attend The Weiss-Livnat International MA program in Holocaust Studies at the University of Haifa. She is working on her Master’s thesis about Dutch SS guards at Auschwitz. During her time in Israel, Rivka had the chance to do several internships, including one at Yad Vashem which focused on translation work and one at the Hecht Museum at the University of Haifa which focused on curating. This past academic year, she spent a semester at the Jagiellonian University in Krakow, followed by a two-month internship at the Auschwitz Jewish Center and Synagogue in Oświęcim. Currently Baum is finishing up another two-month internship at the Wiener Library in London. Apart from Dutch, which is her first language, she is also fluent in English, Spanish, French, and German.

Ron Bilevich

Ron Bilevich is a Masters student in Israel Studies, specializing in Antisemitism and the Delegitimization of Israel, at University of Haifa. Ron is a New media creator, music producer and graphic designer. He n manages the Media Creation Department, at the Practical Program for Countering New Antisemitism and the Delegitimization of Israel. Ron served in the Air Force commando unit - ‘Shaldag’. From 2013 to 2016 he was the Senior VIP Representative at the ‘Aerohandling’ enterprise, working with senior diplomats, Knesset members, and Government Ministers from Israel and abroad. Ron received his Bachelors degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from the University of Haifa in 2017.

Prince Bush

Holly Cohen
Hollycohen97@gwmail.gwu.edu
Holly Cohen lives in Washington, D.C., where she studies international affairs and journalism at The George Washington University. Cohen’s academic interests include geopolitics, international law, conflict resolution and modern Middle Eastern history. Beyond the classroom, she writes about D.C. local culture, food and art for her independent school newspaper, the GW Hatchet. Last summer, the Montreal native interned at U.S. News & World Report, where she researched and wrote about the country’s highly ranked hospitals and medical centers. Once Cohen graduates, she hopes to work toward pursuing a career in human rights law.

Erez Dishy
Erez.dishy@queensu.ca
Erez Dishy is attending law school at Queen’s University in Kingston, Ontario. This year he will be President of the Jewish Law Students Association, where he intends to educate others on antisemitism. He is from Toronto, where he grew up in the Thornhill Jewish community and studied in Jewish day school until university. He spent his gap year at Yeshivat Lev Hatorah in Israel. Afterward he studied business and psychology at York University. He is excited to learn, grow and better understand how to combat antisemitism through the Summer Institute.

Nathan Glushka
Ng8385a@student.american.edu
Nathan Glushka is earning a Bachelor Degree at American University while studying International Relations, with a particular focus on conflict resolution in United States foreign policy. He is studying abroad in Almaty, Kazakhstan in the fall of 2019 on an intensive Russian language study program, and law in Melbourne, Australia in the spring of 2020. In the future he plans to attend graduate school and hopes to learn more about a future in academia through this program.

Gunyeop Lee
skkxlgy@gmail.com
Gunyeop is currently pursuing Master’s degree in Security Studies at University College, London. He is originally from South Korea, but he moved to the United States at age 16. He graduated from Kalamazoo College in Michigan with a major in Political Science and International Area Studies (concentration in Western Europe). He became interested in antisemitism while studying at Kalamazoo. He found that anti-Semitic ideas were often being promoted under the guise of social justice and human rights, which led many well-meaning students to accept anti-Semitic ideas without questioning them. He is now a research intern at the Centre for Radicalisation and Terrorism at the Henry Jackson Society, where he assists research on the Far-Right and Islamist extremism. His academic interest includes antisemitism, terrorism, Islamic and secular politics, and East Asian international affairs.
Rammon Green
RGreen07@my.fisk.edu
Rammon Green is studying Operations Research and Financial Mathematics at Fisk University in Nashville, Tennessee. He grew up in Jamaica, where he was an entrepreneur, researcher and educator. He taught O-Level Physics at Titchfield High School for two years and, during the Zika virus outbreak of 2015, synthesized a larvicide that was effective in culling the local mosquito population.

Having grown up in the melting pot that is the Caribbean, whose culture features free and uninhibited interaction between peoples of different races, nationalities and cultures, Rammon is drawn to the cause of ISGAP to lend his voice to the crafting of policies that will help fight antisemitism and racism across the world.

Janelle Green
jangreen@claflin.edu
Janelle Green is a junior in Claflin University’s Alice Carson Tisdale Honors College where she is a Philosophy and African American Studies double major with a minor in Marketing. She recently received the ESU Luard Morse Scholarship and chose to attend Hertford College at Oxford University as a visiting student in the spring. She serves as the National Association of African American Honors Program’s Assistant Vice President, and as the Chief Strategist for the 61st Administration of the Student Government Association at her school. She plans to continue her education in a combined JD/PhD program. A native of Charleston, South Carolina, her goal after the completion of both degrees is to serve the community that raised her as an advocate for better public education and more informed post-secondary school decision-making.

Yael Hadad
Yaelnily1@gmail.com
Yael Hadad is earning a Masters in Israel Studies, with a specialization in Antisemitism and the Delegitimization of Israel, at the University of Haifa. Yael earned her Bachelors in Interdisciplinary Studies at the University of Haifa. She is a spokeswoman for Galei Tzahal, the National Military Radio Station in Israel, and is a newscaster and narrator in several media outlets. In 2018 she was part of the educational delegation focused changes occurring on the European political map in the face of rising antisemitism, the rise of extreme right-wing movements, and the commemoration of the Holocaust.
DeVon L. Jackson
Djac0214@students.vsu.edu

DeVon Jackson is a psychology major and a member of the honors program at Virginia State University. An active student leader committed to social change, human rights and intercultural opportunities for personal and professional growth, he has been trained in “Intercultural Communication, Identity and Leadership” as a Frederick Douglass Global Fellow in Cape Town, South Africa. His experiences at Virginia State University have inspired him to pursue a PhD in Clinical Psychology. Jackson plans to make a difference in the mental health/consciousness of his expanding community through informed practice and engagement in high impact scholarship. Areas of interest include racial formation, racial prejudice and inequality, positive psychology, LGBTQIA issues, and population health.

Da’Shauna Hall
DHall11@studentcoppin.onmicrosoft.com

Da’Shauna Hall is a rising senior studying Elementary Education at Coppin State University in Baltimore. A full-time student, she also works two part-time jobs, one at the Coppin State computer labs and the other at Target as a sales floor associate. Since her enrollment at Coppin State University, she has maintained an A average and made the Dean’s List four times. She is also a part of CSEA (Coppin State Education Association), P2P (Pathways to Professions), and Kappa Delta Pi (International Honors Society for Education). Hall aspires to be an Elementary school teacher. Hall chose the education field because she hopes to make a change in the school system and in the lives of children, so they become successful in whatever path they chose to follow. In her free time, she enjoys volunteering at a women’s shelter, prepping and serving food.

Jalesa Johnson
Jaljohnson2009@gmail.com

Jalesa Johnson is a graduate student in the rehabilitation-counseling program at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore (UMES). The professors in the program encouraged her to be a dedicated and hard-working student athlete. While finishing her undergraduate career, she remained on the President’s list where she finished with a 3.9 GPA, was named the Most Outstanding Student in the School of Pharmacy and Other Health Professions, and Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year from 2016 to 2018.
Charles Keita
charleskeita@outlook.com
Charles Keita is a graduate of McGill University with a Bachelor of Arts in Economics and Political Science. While attending university, he served as an ambassador for the school and a representative for the Arts Faculty. He considers his biggest political achievement the passing of his motion to institutionalize Black History Month at his alma mater. As he transitions from academic life to one of service within the Canadian armed forces, Keita is actively looking for ways he can address issues in his community, be it through politics or otherwise.

Pritha Majumder
pritham@tau.ac.il
Majumder is an undergraduate student, pursuing a BA in Liberal Arts from Tel Aviv University, majoring in Modern Jewish and Israeli Studies and minoring in Psychology. Originally from Kolkata, India, she intends to pursue her higher education in Holocaust studies and eventually venture into the field of genocide awareness and human rights. Majumder’s interest in the field of Jewish history and Holocaust studies was sparked when she read The Diary of Anne Frank in 7th grade. She also interns at the University of Haifa under the Weiss Livnat School of Holocaust Studies, researching the state of Holocaust education in different countries, and at the Combat Genocide Association, where she helps in the Poetry Anthology Project. Majumder also devotes one to two hours per week to Latet, an Israeli humanitarian organization that helps Holocaust survivors, while maintaining her university schedule. She is fluent in English and Bengali.

Ivana Marshall
Ivana.marshall@richmond.edu
Ivana Marshall serves as the Assistant Director of Alumni Engagement and Inclusion Initiatives at The College of William and Mary in Virginia, where her communities of focus are LGBT+ alumni and Latinx alumni. Marshall graduated from the University of Richmond in May 2017, with a double major in Leadership and International Studies, a concentration in World Politics and Diplomacy, and a minor in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies. Her undergraduate international research included a pilgrimage to study the effects of the Holocaust in Poland, the ramifications of the Palestinian-Israeli conflict in Jordan, homelessness in the Republic of Ireland, history of the Irish Troubles in London and Northern Ireland, and participation in the National Women’s Studies Association conference in Canada. Currently, Marshall’s academic interests include evaluating leaders in times of social strife, looking into historical human rights infractions, and attempting to understand how language barriers can influence reconciliation efforts.
Tetiana Malykh
t.malykh@ukma.edu.ua
Tetiana Malykh is a MA student in History (Jewish Studies) at the National University of Kyiv-Mohyla Academy, Ukraine, and the International Outgoing Mobility Coordinator at the International Office at the university. She previously earned a MA in Political Science (2017) and BSc in Computer Science (2015). The title of her present MA thesis is “The Cooperation of the Cabinet of Jewish Language, Literature and Folklore of the Academy of Sciences of the Ukrainian SSR with the Jewish Anti-Fascist Committee (1943-1948)” Her research interests lie in Digital Humanities’ approach to Eastern European Jewry, the Holocaust and the History of Antisemitism. She is an alumna of the Erasmus+ mobility program at Central European University in Budapest (2018), the International Research Workshop in USHMM (2018) and an internship at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem (2018). She previously participated at the conference on “Genocides, Mass Murders and Deportations on Ukrainian Lands During the World War II: How to Work with Sources” with the report: “The ‘Black Book’ of Jewish Anti-Fascist Committee and Official Narrative of the Great Patriotic War in the USSR: Conflict of Memories” (Ukraine, 2018).

Blanca Moreno
Bymoreno012@gmail.com
Moreno is a legal assistant at Lucas and Barba LLP, where she provides legal case support to attorneys in handling a variety of removal defense, special immigrant, and family based immigration law matters. Before starting at Lucas and Barba LLP, Moreno spent a year in Germany as a U.S. Department of State Fellow. During her year abroad, she improved her German language skills, studied for a semester at the University of Hamburg and completed a three-month internship at the German Institute of Global and Area Studies. Moreno graduated from Kalamazoo College in 2017 with a degree in Political Science and Jewish Studies. She intends to pursue graduate studies in social policy to develop a theoretical and empirical understanding of the causes, manifestations and consequences of social and economic inequalities.

Shirly Piperno
shirlypiperno@gmail.com
Piperno, a branding and real estate professional, has helped to rebrand think tanks and startups in Amsterdam, London, Tel Aviv and Rome. After working for The Class of 2020, a European think tank on student living, she co-founded Map Mavn – a consultancy focused on place branding and expansion of alternative real-estate assets in the innovation ecosystem such as co-working and co-living spaces. For the past four years, Piperno has also been studying Jewish Studies at the Rabbinical College of Rome. Her research looks at the intersection of modern Judaism and the new spatial patterns surrounding the future of living, working and traveling. She is now looking into community cohesion through antisemitism, and the multidisciplinary approach to the topic in relation to spaces.
Noah Rosenfield
Rosenfieldn@carelton.edu
Noah Rosenfield is a junior at Carleton College in Minnesota, where he is majoring in Political Science and International Relations. Over the past two years, Rosenfield has worked part-time as a research/administrative assistant at the Tikvah Fund. This summer, he is interning at the Hoover Institution assisting Abraham D. Sofaer in his research in foreign policy and national security affairs. Rosenfield is the head of the American Enterprise Institute’s Executive Council at Carleton College and is the founder of the Civil Discourse Association, which aims to spark dialogue and detribalize campus politics.

Noah Shufutinsky
noahshuf@gmail.com
Noah Shufutinsky is a junior at The George Washington University, double majoring in Judaic Studies and Africana Studies. He has been involved in Jewish leadership on campus, participating as a Hillel engagement intern, David Project intern and the Vice President of GW for Israel. He has two years of teaching experience at the Adas Israel Congregation Religious School.

Mansheetal Singh
smansheetal@gmail.com
Singh is pursuing a Master's in Diplomacy, Law and Business at the Jindal School of International Affairs in Sonipat, Haryana, India. The emerging partnership of India and Israel made him curious to dig into the complexities of their relationship by becoming a student member and later a student coordinator at the Jindal Center for Israel Studies. He has assisted the center in organizing various events. He also attended the International Summer School Program on Identity Based Conflict Resolution organized by Bar-Ilan University, Israel. He also interacted with Indian Jews as a part of his research on the Indian Jewish community in Israel. His master’s thesis focuses on cultural identity of Indian-Israelis.

Agnese Tati
Agnes.tati95@gmail.com
Agnese Tati is a Master’s student in Religious and Historical Sciences at La Sapienza University, Rome. Her Bachelor’s thesis focused on the Beta Israel community of Ethiopian Jews. She recently attended the inauguration of the King Hamad Chair for Inter-religious Dialogue and Peaceful Coexistence in Bahrain. Her academic focus is on Jewish relations with other Abrahamic religions and the development of religious identity in different cultural contexts.
Grischa Stanjek
Grischa.stanjek@jfga.de
Grischa Stanjek is a graduate student in the master program “Art in Context” at the University of the Arts Berlin, Germany and the head of the media department of the Jewish Forum for Democracy and Against Antisemitism (JFDA). In addition, he is the project manager of the project “Mitzpe—Research Centre for Antisemitism and Democratic Threats”. Products of his work with a focus on right-wing extremism and Islamism have been published in international media and are being used in various educational programs. Previously, he studied communication design (BA) and worked as an education officer, photographer and web developer in Berlin, New York and Tel Aviv.

Sarah Weiser
Sweiser718@gmail.com
Weiser has worked as a foreign language teacher and artist in New York since graduating from Williams College in Massachusetts in 2017 with majors in history and Russian. She was awarded a Fulbright scholarship to spend nine months in the Siberian city of Novosibirsk, where she conducted research about portrayals of World War II in Russian and Soviet film, and collective memory of the war among Russian youth. She is interested in the ethics of historical memory in media, especially concerning Jewish history and her own family's experience of the Holocaust. While she has a particular interest in the role of popular perceptions of antisemitism, she is eager to meet experts at ISGAP who can broaden and deepen her understanding of antisemitism from many other angles and academic disciplines.

Jessica Dianne Tolbert
jtolbert@claflin.edu
Jessica Dianne Tolbert is beginning her studies for a PhD in chemistry at Dartmouth College. A Chattanooga, Tennessee, native, she recently graduated with a Bachelor of Science in biochemistry from Claflin University in Orangeburg, South Carolina, where she served as the student body president and received the Claflin University Presidential Leadership and Service Award at the University Commencement. Tolbert has conducted research at several institutions, most notably Brown University in Rhode Island and Graz University of Technology in Austria. In addition to her interest in chemistry, she is an author and illustrator. She enjoys hiking, experiencing new foods and expanding her perspective by engaging the world around her. Tolbert’s aspirations for the future include educating students as a professor and later working as a college administrator. Her aim is to advocate for better college infrastructure in South Sudan and other African nations. She holds by the principle that all individuals are entitled to high quality education. Tolbert’s participation in ISGAP Oxford as a Wiesel-King Fellow reflects her desire to facilitate education as a means to create safe environments for all students, and beyond that, to live and learn.

Vuyolwethu Mkhuseli Xulu
vuyoxulu@gmail.com
Vuyolwethu Mkhuseli Xulu resides in Paulpietersburg, Kwazulu Natal, where he works alongside small businesses to give financial education to unemployed youth. He has a passion for social justice and entrepreneurship. He is a member of the African National Congress Youth League, working on projects to empower rural youth. He is also involved in campaigns with the South African Israel Forum to educate South Africans on the realities of life in Israel. He is also completing his Master’s degree in development studies at the University of the Witwatersrand.